FOREWORD

Though the years may dim the lustre of youth, though life's experiences carry us to the ends of the earth, may the pages of this volume ever brighten the pleasant memories of this college year and ever keep afresh the cherished ideals of dear old Muskingum

To The Editorial Staff And Readers of The 1927 Muscoljuan

Greetings:—

The year 1927 will be a notable one in the history of Muskingum College, notable, first of all, because it will mark the completion of ninety years of honorable history, of heroic sacrifice and of genuine service which the College has rendered successive generations of youth and, through them, the world.

I congratulate the Editorial Staff in having the privilege of issuing the 1927 Muscoljuan and of graduating from Muskingum in that eventful year.

The recent successful campaign for endowment, when we not only met the requirements of the North Central Association, but went $17,500 beyond, augurs well for the achievement which we must realize during the year 1927 and especially by March 18th of that year when we will celebrate the ninetieth anniversary of the founding of Muskingum. By that time a half million additional endowment must be secured and will be secured.

The President counts it a great privilege and an increasing joy to serve the Alumni of Muskingum, pour out the best that is in him in behalf of the splendid student body, and to undertake, with his eye to the future, in the confidence that is his that Muskingum has a great and an increasingly great service to render the world.

All Hail! To all who read this splendid book issued by the Editorial Staff of the 1927 Muscoljuan.

In the fall of 1922 there entered Muskingum College a freshman class that has ever since been distinguished by its energy and enthusiasm, its class spirit and its college spirit. In number the men and women were almost equally divided.

On the social side few of the members of this class will forget the rough and tumble times, the formal times, or even the "hard times" we have had together. This class unusual in having won both of its Scrap Days. It upset what had become the usual order of events by getting the Muscoljuan out on time and with all its bills paid. Scholastically, the Class of '26 has been distinguished both by individual students and by the general average. From its ranks have come: three excellent debaters; athletes, including an All-Ohio basketball forward; a Rhodes Scholarship aspirant called before the Committee twice; writers of ability; actors, including a most satisfactory Petruchio; musicians, including a baritone of remarkable ability; religious leaders; and social leaders.

The class presidents of '26 have been: Spencer, Ben Hazen, Miller and Ewing.

Although "college days may not be the best days" yet we have had some gloriously happy times together, and we cannot help but feel that college friends are the real friends from the heart and for always. May we all be friends ever, with reunions often, and happy memories to the end. To every member of '26, health and happiness.

Of course, at one time in our history, we were new to college ways—verdant, if you will. But we did as other classes have done before and will continue to do after us: we outgrew our infancy. The short period of three years has passed, only to give the Class of 1927 opportunity to grow, to advance, and to attain. Our present stage of development alone attests to all our contentions of prowess, for ourselves, not to mention the numerous times the class has contributed, aided, and filled in, to further the welfare of old Muskingum and all who love her. We come to this our Junior year to present to all mankind this Muscoljuan, that all may read, see, and know our college, and the achievements and activities of the Junior Class.

ETHELYN DOROTHY AIKEN

Canonsburg, Pa.

Major: English

Choral Society, 3; Dormitory Judiciary Board, 3.

They say it's woman's privilege to change her mind,

But Dorothy ignores the privilege, you'll find;
When she decides her view upon some theory
That she'll defend with stubborn pertinacity.
Her clear, bright eyes will snap in sparkling fashion

When she's engaged in earnest conversation.
And if the office records you'll examine,
Of A's there'll be a-plenty, not a famine.

"High flights she had and wit at will,
And so her tongue lay seldom still."

SARA PHYLLIS ALBRECHT

Monogahela, Pa.

Major: English

A little light haired person who looks like a naughty boy stealing jam; did you say? Oh, that's Phyl. She has such a whimsical twist of expression that we all wish to know her better. She left us last year to attend Hood College but couldn't withstand the lure of Muskingum and returned, for which we are all glad since she is always ready for any fun that may be on foot.

"Quips and cranks, and wanton wiles, Nods and becks, and wreathed smiles."

JAMES WILLIAM ANDERSON

New Concord, Ohio

Major: Mathematics

Physics Club

Anderson is one of those persons who never speaks unless he has something to say. He is not given to offering information, but his classwork is well-prepared. Even his remarks in class are, though complete, terse and brief. We suspect him of concealing many amiable qualities under a strong reserve. Anyone who says so little must have many deep thoughts, and we wish that he would only tell us often-er what they are.

"They never taste who always drink,
They always talk who never think."

MARY DORCAS ARCHER

Shadyside, Ohio

Major: Latin

Peppy? Well, I should say. So full of life she can't be idle a moment. And talk? Oh, my yes; but Mary knows what she thinks and is never afraid to say it, nor to stand up for it when the occasion demands. She is small but mighty, not only in size but in friendship for everyone knows Mary.

"Wearing all that weight of learning, lightly like a flower."

ELEANOR RAMONA ANDERSON

New Concord, Ohio

Major: Spanish

F. A. D.; Women's Glee Club, 3; Spanish Club, 1, 2, 3.

Personality finds expression in different ways with each of us and Eleanor has chosen music to express hers. Whether you wish to be happy or not, she will make you feel that way, if she so chooses. But we never think of Eleanor without thinking of her in the role of gracious hostess as she dispels the blues for homesick folks at her home on the Boulevard and an evening at "the Andersons" is one to be long remembered.

"Music waves eternal wands,— Enchantress of the souls of mortals!"

FRANCIS CHALMERS ARMSTRONG

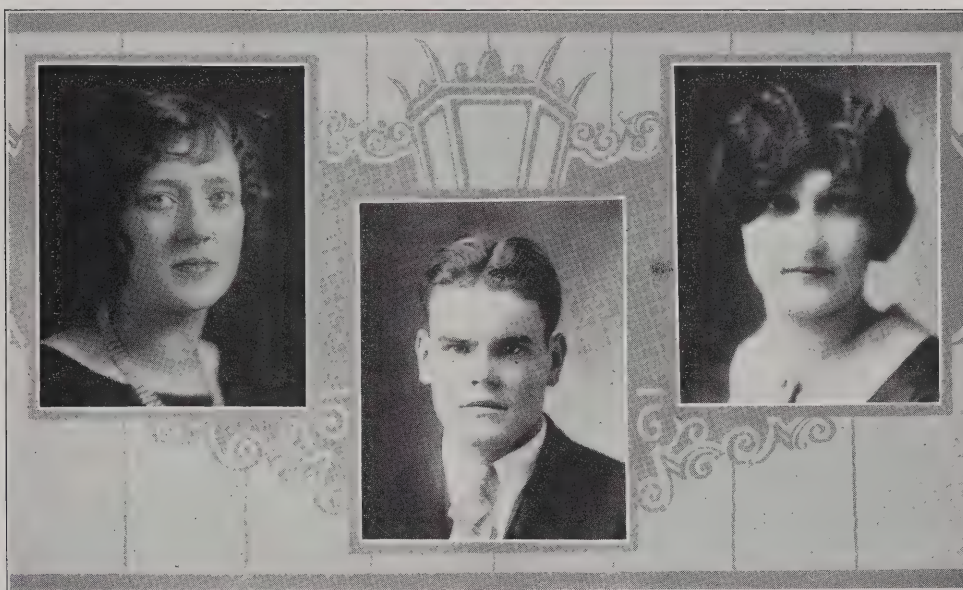

Cambridge, Ohio

Major: Geology

Class Basketball, 1; Class Football, 1.

"Army" is one of those happy-go-lucky persons with whom everyone enjoys to talk. For awhile we thought he was going to follow in the footsteps of the renowned Algier heroes who "go from bootblack to Senator" but he has deserted the Collegiate Shine and is searching for another pathway to fame. He is also a member of the Cambridge gang and runs off occasionally for weekends although he never loses his interest in Muskingum's campus and its people.

"A little nonsense now and then
Is relished by the best of men."

MARY MATILDA BAILEY

Dayton, Ohio Majors: Spanish, French

Delta; Glee Club, 1, 2, 3; Choral Society, 1, 2; Spanish Club, 2, 3; Class Hockey; Class Basketball, 1, 2.

Here we have a frank friendliness that meets you more than half way. She really wants to know you. Wherever something is to be done, there is "Tillie"; not conspicuous, but efficiently doing a full share of the work. She takes life as it comes, and makes the best of it. Her interests are Music and "Art". She very capably holds a place in the Glee Club.

"Her winged spirit is feathered often times with heavenly words."

DOROTHY FAYE BAIRD

Winchester, Ohio Major: Home Economics

Miami University, 1, 2; Choral Society, 3; French Play, 3; Class Basketball, 3.

Friendly yet not forward. An attractive, pleasing personality, with intriguing eyes. An irrepressible sense of humor and a semipiternal smile. Musically inclined, and intensely interested in athletics for she was chosen as one of the ten physically perfect girls at Miami, last year.

She has a strong sense of social responsibility, for at all formal or informal occasions she has her Butler.

"Beauty seen in all varieties of mould and mind."

ROBERT WHITE BALLANTYNE

Xenia, Ohio Majors: Chemistry, Biology

Glee Club, 1, 2, 3; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, 3; B. and M. Staff, 2; Football, 2, 3; Class Football, 1; French Club, 3; Scrap Day Leader, 1.

"Yeth, you know Bob and tho doth everyone." His manner of speech only makes him the more individual. This six-foot man of hardened calibre is always wanted when anything is to be put on and generally there is something going, on when he is around whether it was formerly planned for or not. Bob's a good sport, ready for a good time when he can take "time out" from his numerous duties.

"The social, friendly, honest man,
'Tis he who fits great nature's plan."

ANNA ELLEN BEITLER

Bowerstown, Ohio

Major: Education

There are people who are called instructors and then there are people who are really teachers. Anna belongs to this latter class. She is planning to take up teaching as a profession and there are some young people who are going to be decidedly fortunate because of her decision. She has one fault though, she can't keep a secret in class and tells all she knows to blue books and she manages to fill quite a few. It isn't such a bad fault; in fact, we rather admire her for it.

"True happiness is to no place confined.
But yet is found in a contented mind."

CLARA ELIZABETH BENTLEY

Baltimore, Md.

Major: English

Choral Society.

Another young lady from Baltimore. While not exactly the type of person one would call "Liz," Elizabeth makes friends and keeps them. She has the family trait of industry and even if she is not at class her papers always are. She frequents the rooms of the English department and when she says anything there is usually a good reason for her statements.

"The more we study, the more we discover our ignorance."

DEAN TALMADGE BARKLEY

Prospect, Pa.

Major: Biology

Baseball 2, 3.

Here is one of the solid kind of students physically as well as mentally—the kind of students who make up the backbone of a college. He likes his fun, yet he never permits it to interfere with his education. A most likeable fellow is this Dean Barkley from Prospect.

"An honest man's the noblest work of God"

GLADYS WANETA BERRY
Quaker City, Ohio Major: Home Economics
Hiking Club, 3; Home Economics Club, 3.

There is a little red haired girl who may be often seen on our campus whose quiet manner has prevented many people from becoming very well acquainted with her. She is another of Muskingum's red headed girls. As a member of the Hiking Club she wanders far and often, over New Concord's hills but her moonlight hikes have not ended quite as disastrously as the one the club took one night to Bloomfield. Perhaps because she was along.

"Her looks do argue her replete with modesty."

MARY KATHRYN BENTLEY
Baltimore, Md. Major: Spanish
Spanish Club; French Club.

All the way from Baltimore to Muskingum came Kathryn. A quiet manner hiding real ability seems to be her chief characteristic. She reads through Spanish novels as though they were primers and promises to be quite a Senorita some day. She is one of those people to whom the professors turn as an ever present help when no one else is prepared. She is very quiet about everything and one must be in her classes to realize the full extent of her ability.

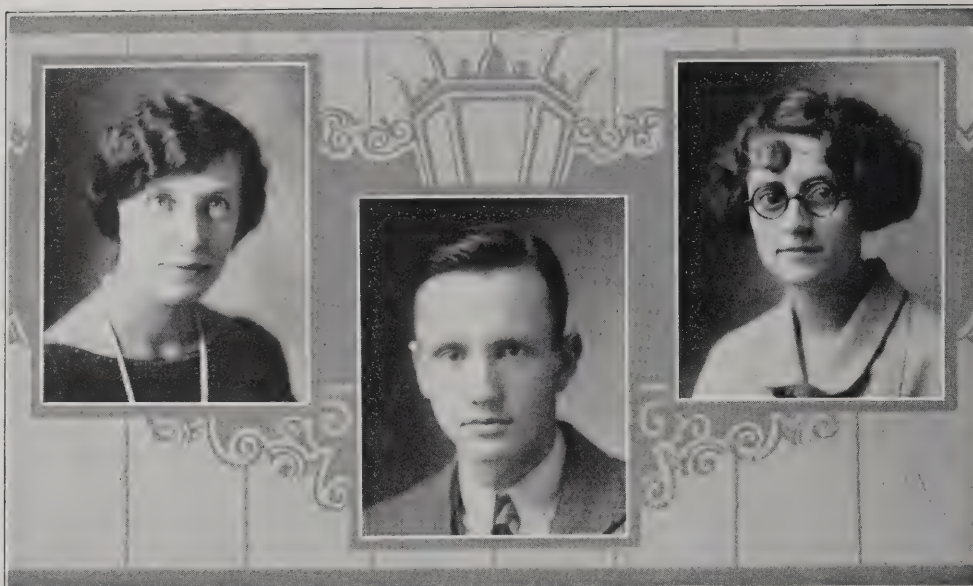

"Beholding the bright countenance of truth in the quiet and still air of delightful studies."

THOMAS RANDALL BERKSHIRE
Zanesville, Ohio Major: English

Choral Society, 1; B. and M. Staff, 3;
Muscoljuan Staff, 3; Friendship Council, 3.

Sometimes people are blessed with unnecessarily elongated frames, and our friend above is such an individual. He displayed on entering college characteristics other than stature to attract attention, and these have been prominent ever since. He is a poet of a high order and has had poems published in national verse magazines. He is a contributor to the college publications, and some of his works are to be found on the pages of this volume. His striking literary ability should not overshadow the fact that he is friendly, good-humored, and possesses a rare whimsical sense of humor.

"He thinks too much; such men are dangerous."

MARGUERITE CAVERLY BLOWERS

New Concord, Ohio Majors: Latin, Mathematics

Class Basketball, 1, 2, 3; Class Hockey, 1; Hiking Club; M. C. Club.

When Marguerite first came from Rochester, New York, to enter Muskingum as a Freshman, she was Marguerite Caverly. The passing of three years has changed even her name. Marguerite, or should we say "Mrs. Blowers," is famous as a plucky, fighting lightning-speed basketball player. She is the type of girl who is never daunted by seemingly impassable difficulties, but is courageous enough and strong enough to succeed no matter how many others before have failed.

"Fair, kind and true is all my argument."

MARY MYRTLE BOYCE

Washington, Iowa Major: History

Coe College, 1, 2; Dormitory Judiciary Board, 3.

Myrtle is a "foreigner" in our midst for she spent her first two years at Coe College in Iowa. It didn't take her long, though, to become a "naturalized" Muskingumite and the class of '27 profited by Coe College's loss. She is one of those individuals whom you just can't help liking, for she has that loyalty and spirit that every Iowan possesses. You never see one but you hear—

"Iowa, Iowa, that's where the tall corn grows."

A. MELTON BOYD

New Concord, Ohio Major: Psychology

Scrap Day Leader, 2; Debate, 2; Forensic Club 2, 3; Class Play, 3; Muscoljuan Business Manager, 3; Cheerleader, 2, 3; College Orator, 3.

A mighty voice, has Melton, and whether he is debating the existence of Santa Claus or settling the problems of "The Human Race" or doing some "Yea, Muskingum" stunt, he is attractive and dominating. He is the best "Oskeke-wow-wower" in the era of Slick McCormick, and he works at it hard and faithfully. He is most efficient and dependable in getting movies for the boys and girls, and Professor McElhinney every Saturday night. In addition he is the possessor of a personality most pleasing and strong, and "he is high in all the people's hearts."

"After I have named the man, I need say no more."

LYDIA LAKE BOYD

Elm Grove, W. Va. Major: Mathematics
West Liberty Normal and Junior College,
1, 2; Hiking Club, 3.

This year might well be called, the year of the great additions, since the Junior Class has gained so many new members. One of these is Lydia Boyd who took her first two years work at West Liberty Normal and Junior College at West Liberty, West Virginia. Since coming here she has chased logarithms and geometrical figures all around Prof. White's class room and captured quite a few, we hear. But we are sorry to report that we have been unable to get any definite information concerning her work in astronomy.

"And even her failings leaned to virtue's side."

BERTHA BROWNLEE BORLAND

Washington, Pa. Major: French
Delta; Muscoljuan Staff; Honor Council, 3;
French Club, 2, 3; French Play, 2.

Do you remember the nursery rhyme of the little girl who might "sit on a cushion and sew a fine seam and feed upon strawberries, sugar and cream?" Bertha would demand, in addition, an easel and a paint brush, or a supply of sketch-books and well-sharpened pencils, and a vantage-point for the cushion that would command a "view" lending itself to the artistic purposes of Bertha's skilled fingers, for she is the art editor of this volume. Clever fingers these, as befit a mistress who makes A's and almost prefers to talk to you in French.

"In forming an artist, art hath thus decreed,
To make some good, but others to exceed."

GEORGE GLENN CAMERON

Washington, Pa. Major: English
Washington and Jefferson College, 1, 2;
Pianist Men's Glee Club, 3.

George is a real artist and delights us all with the melodies he is able to set free when he sits down at the piano. Temperamental? Yes, but not to the discomfiture of his friends and the expense of friendship. Although he only joined his fate with ours this year he has made many warm friends, perhaps some warmer than others.

"There is sweet music here that softer falls
Than petals from blown roses on the grass."

HELEN ROBERTSON BROWNLEE

Washington, Pa. Major: Biology

Hiking Club, 1, 2; Home Economics Club, 2; Student Volunteers, 1, 2, 3; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, 2.

Helen is one of the quiet kind whose natures never vary yet are not uninteresting. She has peace in her spirit and it is natural that her eyes should smile peace. Helen's face is turned to lands across the oceans and her purpose holds to spend her years among people whose way and thoughts are not her own. Perhaps when she grows so dreamy and silent her thoughts are of another people. Helen has been most efficient in her work on the Y. W. Cabinet and has proved herself trustworthy and dependable.

"She trod the clamor with a cloistral quiet Deep in her eyes."

MILDRED LUCILE BURDETTE

Barnesville, Ohio Major: Home Economics

"Have you a little Fairy in your home?" You didn't know there were fairies? Well, Birdie's one. She does all sorts of helpful little things for people. And she loves to do them silently, unobserved, so that when you come to, what, ho! the fairy has been before you and smoothed the way. If anyone is sick, then the fairy throws off the invisible veil and Birdie is on the job. Birdie's long lashes are at once demure and incorrigible, and seem to be alluring, for her book of social engagements is always full.

"A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance."

RALPH EDGAR CANNON

Grove City, Pa. Major: Economics

Alban; B. and M. Staff, 2, 3; Muscoljuan Staff; Class Officer, 1; Class Play, 3.

Whatsoever Ralph's hand findeth to do, he does it with his might, and he does it well. In his first year Ralph was elected class treasurer, dispatched his business with efficiency, and has been in demand for hard work ever since. During the Muscoljuan drive, Ralph was the power behind the scenes. It's not always the easiest thing to do, to keep on working steadily and up to the mark in that dull routine task but Ralph was uncomplaining and on the job all the time. In his friendships Ralph is as dependable and true as in his work.

"A man resolved and steady to his trust."

LOIS RUTH BROWNLEE

Washington, Pa. Major: Home Economics

Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, 3; Muscoljuan Staff; Home Economics Club; Class Officer, 3.

Merry-eye'd Lois, capable, gay,
You'll have a picnic when you go her way;
She'll joke and she'll laugh with you, chatter-
ing fast:

The minutes go lightly and pleasantly past.
She's a worker, this Lois, and likes it, too;
Does everything well that she finds to do.
On the staff she helped make a success of this book;

Which is true, you'll agree, when you've taken a look.

"How Brilliant and mirthful the light of her eye,

Like a star glancing out from the blue of the sky!"

THELMA IRENE BURSON

Lore City, Ohio

Major: Biology

Last year Thelma was registered as a member of the class of '28 but diligent study and summer school work has elevated her to a much higher and more dignified group; the present Junior Class. We usually find her in Johnson Hall performing some weighty experiment in chemistry or biology. As we do not usually consider affections in these items we will say no Moore but Moore will probably follow.

"And whispering, 'I will ne'er consent,'— consented."

Don has been active in many forms of student life ever since coming to Muskingum. As advertising manager of this Muscoljuan he has done a most valuable work in securing advertisers for the book. He has the gift of presenting his case in a persuasive way, and logical manner that one feels himself unfair if he does not agree with him. He may also be frequently seen piloting comeds to the many college functions. He is a man of moderation: "Live and let live."

"Who overcomes by force, hath overcome but half his foe."

EDWARD BANNING CHIPLEY, JR.

Avalon, Pa.

Major: Economics

Alban; Basketball, 2, 3; Baseball, 2, 3; Class Basketball, 1, 2.

Eddie is a young man of sundry abilities, among others, that of impressing freshmen with the might of upperclassmen. He specializes in mathematics and economics, as he intends, one of these days, to combine the holdings of Carnegie and Rockefeller. As a freshman he was rather shy, but this is overcome, and he moves with a proper dignity up the Dorm walk. This development is surprising, considering the reams of stationery he uses. He deludes himself occasionally into making weird noises with his voice, with telling results.

"But at night I would roam about and play
With the mermaids in and out of the—

FRANK LEONARD CLARK

"Once in a while there comes a man so truly great he maketh no account of honors." "Red" Clark has not concerned himself with small school triumphs and so he has kept the admiration and respect of all his friends. Those who know "Red" afar off are attracted by his personality—those who know him well like him for his character and those who live with him say he is a prince among fellows.

"What's in the brain that ink may character

ADA DORIS CAIN

New Concord, Ohio

Home Economics Club, 3; Biology Club, 3.

Doris is one of those Muskingum girls who is most frequently seen with a traveling companion but whether she calls it "Misses Pretty Often" or "Cain Is Able" we have never been able to discover. But what is in a name? A Ford by any other name would run as well. This particular one seems to run quite well and Doris and her chosen companions are often to be found in it. Doris is a New Concord girl and may be seen here the year around expounding the glories of the Junior Class.

"Her smile was prodigal of summery shine—Gaily persistent."

GERTRUDE RILLA CLINE

Batesville, Ohio Major: Home Economics

Gertrude makes wish we had her recipe for study. She is almost enthusiastic about it. Her general characteristic is, however, a steady energetic pursuit of the end sought. She has taught, and returning thence, she does not intend to be "stumped" by any questions. She is rather conventional and dignified, the supporting prestige of the teacher, but beneath the mask there is a rollicking spirit.

"Pursuit of knowledge under difficulties."

RUTH DOROTHEA CASHDOLLAR

Pittsburgh, Pa. Major: Home Economics

F. A. D.; "A" Association, 2, 3; Home Economics Club, 2, 3.

Muskingum people do not need quoted lines to acknowledge Ruth's ability as a cook. She is always in demand when there are menus to be planned or parties to be arranged because we all know her good taste and the good taste of the things she prepares. We rather doubt as to whether she can spin but we do know that she can spin an interesting conversation even to a "Post."

"I can cook sir
I can spin sir."

PAUL ENOCH CLARK

Major: Chemistry

Stoic; B. and M. Staff, 3; Muscoljuan Staff, 3; Band, 1, 2, 3; Class Officer, 2; Spanish Club, 1, 2; Benzene Ring, 2, 3.

This man has the spirit and actions of an ascetic. His intellect and his interests put him on a plane far above ordinary heights. The mazes of mathematics and chemistry seem as avenues to him. As a diversion he plays the cornet, and at other times collects jokes for the Muscoljuan. He is frequently to be heard saying "This case is analogous to" whatever he is trying to prove, and again skeptically, "Theoretically possible but not practical." A real likeable fellow.

"Imbued with sanctity of reason."

FRED EDGAR COCHRAN

Major: Bible

Student Volunteer, 2; Gospel Team, 1, 2, 3; "M" Club, 3; Cross Country, 2, 3; Track, 2, 3.

Cochran's public performances have been made on the track. He is not at all partial to the short dashes, but favors the long grinding endurance tests of the cross country course. He has the stamina to maintain a fast pace the whole length of the course, and somehow, to add a winning spurt at the end. This stamina is manifested in other lines of activity. Whatever he undertakes, it is with a serious intent, and he has the grit to carry through. Yet, he is not averse to fun, and anon, a twinkle will come into his eyes at some rare nonsense.

"Though he had much wit,
He was very shy of using it."

If there is something you want done quickly and well, just send for Dale. Then rest assured that whatever is asked he can "Dew." He is quite an accomplished musician, too, and has added his share to the echoes in Muskingum's halls, in Choral, Glee Club and Band. But his friends are true in spite of it. We might well say that Dale is typical of true Muskingum friendliness.

There are some people that attract us because they just seem to radiate sunshine! "Lil" is just that kind of girl. Did anyone ever see her when she wasn't smiling? She has a friendly greeting for everyone she meets. "Lil" is a real example of the student who possesses the spirit of the Muskingum "hello" and the class of '27 is happy to claim her as a member.

"As merry as the day is long."

CLAUDE BRISBIN COPELAND

Stag.

Claude is that tall young gentleman whom you so often see laughing and throwing back his head, while his hand makes a swift, upward motion to put in order those unruly locks of blonde hair. Courtesy and chivalry are Claudes heritage. We can picture him quite easily living in the days "when knight-hood was in flower." However, we are in the enlightened twentieth century, and Claude is a favored student at Muskingum, a popular member of the Stag Club, and one whom it is a pleasure to know.

"That smile would let him through St. Peter's gate,

"Cotty," as he is known, is one of the Perry County boys for he hails from Shawnee. He is one of those "Hail fellow! Well met!" chaps that seems to be acquainted with everyone. He is a track fiend and spring finds his youthful fancies turning not to love but to cinders.

"Look, he's winding up the watch of his wit; by and by it will strike."

ELIZABETH ELIZA CRAFT

New Concord, Ohio Major: Diploma in Music

Ohio University, 1; Choral Society, 2, 3; Glee Club, 2, 3; Home Economics Club.

A decided diversity of tastes do we find in Elizabeth, who seems to be able to accomplish everything she undertakes. Her chief vocation is music, and as supervisor of music she plans to add a little more of merriment to a humdrum world. Since coming from Ohio University she has entered heartily into campus activities. She has been a very efficient committee member in the Y. W. C. A., and has been a member of both Choral Society and Glee Club. In addition, she is pleasant to know and talk with, a most interesting young lady.

"Sing as you will, O singers all,

FLOYD WILLIAM CRAIG

Coshocton, Ohio

Major: Chemistry

Band, 1, 2, 3.

Craig is a rather slow-speaking, easy-going sort of fellow who feels that life will not come any faster if we hurry. He usually thinks before he speaks, and then delivers himself of something worthy of attention. Even in the occasional cases when he says nothing, the judicial manner of expressing himself carries considerable weight. Good thoughts come in saying little in lieu of saying much.

"More life, and fuller, that I want."

DAVID MYERS CREAMER

Bellaire, Ohio

Major: Economics

Stoic; Ohio State University, 1.

Although "Pete" has only been with us since last year, everyone in the class seems to know and like him. He is that sort of a chap that is more than willing to go half way to make friends. He belongs to the Stoic Club and is one of its most active members.

"Who does the best his circumstances allows Does well, acts nobly; angels could do no more."

Every fourth person in Muskingum comes from Pittsburgh, and Jim is in the first fourth. It is hard to tell whether he is more strongly a Pittsburgher or a Mace. At all events, he is careful that new Mace members be properly prepared. He has curly black hair and roughish eyes, but appears quite indifferent to their obvious effect on co-eds.

"He owns the fatal gift of eyes."

"Hap" is a man of many interests here at Muskingum. As a debater, he is perhaps most noted but newspaper work has demanded his attention, too. The Y. M. needs him and Fort Mustard wouldn't know what to do without "grandpa." We are glad Harry is only a Junior for he has another year to give to Muskingum and to the class of '27.

Earle was one of the wiser folks who deserted the class of '26 to cast his lot with ours. He is a rather rotund business-like chap with a smile as big as he is, and a heart a whole lot bigger. When there is anything to be done he is always willing to help out.

"An honest man close-buttoned to the chin,

NANCY NEWELL DARLING
Warsaw, Ohio Major: Geology

It might turn out to be a tragedy, to be named Darling; it's quite a risk, you know. But Nancy is born to the name. Nancy sparkles, Nancy glows, Nancy not infrequently coquettes. Nancy's eyes are gay and teasing—Nancy's charm is illusive. In short, she is a Darling and no other word would suit half so well. On the campus her friends are many and her place in their hearts quite secure.

JOSEPH DAVIDSE

Wheeling, W. Va.

Major: Biology

Choral Society, 3; Band, 1, 3.

Joe has several marked abilities, but usually he chooses a select audience when he exhibits them. He has musical talents, when he cares to show them, and he also is quite friendly; but his time is so divided that he is not generally seen in our midst. A young lady claims so much of his time and attention that he really can't favor us all. We might say, however, that he is one of the furious drivers since Jehu.

"To scorn delights and live laborious days."

FRANK CALVIN ESPY

Cambridge, Ohio

Major: Chemistry

Mace.

Frank has shown his knowledge of the fitness of things and his belief in "Uncle Hugh's" institution when he chose to come to Muskingum, although it does have that well known drawback of being close to home, Cambridge. Frank believes in being up to the minute whether it is a new fashion in haberdashery or a new trick in sprinting, for he is quite a sprinter. We have heard that he has never outgrown his little boy desire to be a fireman and practices his profession every once in awhile.

"Nowher so bisy a man as he ther was

ROSE DUNLAP

Utica, Ohio

Major: English

Ohio Universitay, 1, 2; Choral Society, 3.

There is a quiet sincerity about this young lady from Utica, Ohio, which has won her many friends since her arrival here from Ohio University. She is never afraid to say what she believes on a subject, and to uphold her convictions. She is one of the people, too, who is responsible for some of the larks that we hear occur once in a long while in the Dormitory.

"We love her for her smile, her look, her way."

DONALD HARRY EWING

Corry, Pa.

Muscoljuan Staff, 3; Geology Club, 3.

Over this grave face will often steal a sardonic smile, and the victim knows that some foible is seen and will be exposed. Don's mission in life is to shame the little conceits we all have. It is not malice; it seems a sort of ceremony. He has keen discrimination in judging people, especially co-eds. He is not given to volunteering information, but seldom does a professor call on him without getting a succinct reply.

"He trusts to light on something fair."

ROLLAND GLASGOW EWING

Kenton, Ohio

Major: Psychology

Mace; Band, 1, 2, 3; B. and M. Staff, 3; Muscoljuan Staff, 3; Class Officer, 3.

"Pat" is quite a student, for he delves into the works of William James and J. J. Smith with considerable success, and acquires a post on the honor roll as a mere incident in his collegiate career. Yet he does not allow studies to interfere with his education, and has stormed the Dormitory with more than average success. He likes to get something started, and then watch people wonder where it came from. Quiet humor is not the least of his traits.

"His cogitative faculties immersed
In cogibundity of cogitation."

MARY ALMA FORD

Cambridge, Ohio

Major: Education

Home Economics Club.

Alma travels back and forth so much that we don't get to see her very often except as she faithfully attends her classes. She is getting her education, we understand, to better the way for those youngsters who will some day be needing a kindly-disposed young lady to teach them the three R's. We wish her success—we know she cannot fail for she has a willing way that will make her win out.

"But you have made the wiser choice

Stag; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, 3; B. and M. Board of Control, 2; Football, 2; Track, 2, 3; Class Football, 1; Student Council, 2, 3; Class President, 2.

This wild young westerner from Albuquerque came to Muskingum to be calmed down and so well has the quiet air of our village succeeded that now he is quite peaceable. Just as Caesar had his Brutus and Charles the First his Cromwell, so Cuyler has his Lincoln. Like Caesar, too, he is ambitious and may be seen from morning to night hustling about the campus. But one may never say of him that he "seems bisier than he was." His genial personality has won for him a prominent place in Muskingum's activities as well as a host of friends.

"Short is my date, but deathless my renown."

WALTER BRUCE FERGUSON

Xenia, Ohio Major: Geology

Glee Club, 1, 2, 3; Class Football 1.

This man is half of the Xenia duo. He will in time become a full-fledged member of the Xenia Boosters' Club. His chief aversion is fish balls as an item of diet. His chief delight is to cast airy bits of melody on the morning air as he splashes about in his bath. He does have a good voice, together with his stern profile, makes a strong impression on co-eds.

"Who to himself is law no law doth need, Offends no law, and is a king indeed."

IRIS IRENE GILLOGLY

New Concord, Ohio Major: History

Iris is a quiet and reserved member of the class of '27, but one who has an opinion that everyone values. Although she makes no fuss about it, you always know that Iris is a boss of all the undertakings of the Junior Class. Her own personal charm is an asset alone which warrants her place in our chain of friends.

"She spreads around that silent spell, that makes all spirits love her well."

LOU ANN GEYER

New Concord, Ohio

Major: English

To every class there is given a few choice spirits from the village of New Concord who are always here to welcome us when we return and to bid us farewell as we depart. One of these is Lou Ann. She has grown up in Muskingum, having graduated from the Academy and has brought to the class a large amount of Muskingum spirit with which she has infected us all.

"'Twas kind o' kingdom come to look

RUTH MARGARET GORDON

Ingram, Pa.

Majors: Spanish, English

Beaver College, 1, 2; Class Basketball, 3;
Class Hockey, 3; Spanish Club, 3.

Ruth forgot Mellin's Food and gloom at the same time. She spent two years at Beaver College, preparing for Muskingum. She made her debut here last fall and immediately won success. She is remarkably adept at handling a basketball, and she is the able captain of the Junior team. Her chief delight is teasing whoever is most convenient. Amusing to hear but unsettling to contemplate.

"She was a form of life and light
That seen, became a part of sight."

JOHN RAYMOND GAGE

Byesville, Ohio

Major: Chemistry

John is quite friendly, and a little reserved. This long-legged man entered school without much fuss, and has not made much since. He sounds not his own trumpet; he goes about his work quietly and gets it done. He lives so near home that he travels back and forth each day, yet he makes sufficient social contacts to impress favorably all who know him.

"Bright metal all without alloy."

WILLIAM RODNEY GIFFIN

Elm Grove, W. Va. Major: Bible
Gospel Team, 1, 2, 3; Y. M. C. A. Friendship Council.

A somewhat angular individual here presents himself. Rodney is zealous in religious work, and while in college he has concentrated on boys' work. So we may except him to be especially well qualified in his chosen profession, the ministry. He is working toward this goal with a unity of purpose that leaves nothing to be desired, yet he does not neglect other phases of college life. He is rather slow of speech, and not easily approached, but once known, he remains a true friend.

"With measured footfall firm and mild
And now and then he gravely smiled."

"Bob" has many claims to fame. He was one of the associate editors of the Handbook for this year and is active in Y. M. C. A. circles. Yes, he is a good fellow, too, but above all that, the rumor has it that he was the first member of the Alban Club to entrust his pin to a young lady, Congratulations!

Betty, the student; the athlete; the singer; and the girl—all these express some of her characteristics. As a student, Betty has proved herself quite above the average. With a hockey stick in her hand, we find her as competent as when she uses that gifted voice of hers. But we like her for she possesses a most forceful yet pleasing and attractive personality.

"Is she not passing fair."

LILLIAN NERITA GRANDSTAFF

Tiro, Ohio

Major: Biology

Bowling Green State Normal School, 1, 2.

Muskingum College and red-haired people seem to have a natural affinity. Therefore Nerita found herself drawn to Muskingum to finish her college work, after having completed her first two years at Bowling Green State Normal School. She is very fond of Johnson Hall, too, and has decided to take her major work there in the Biology Department. She has made many friends while here and we welcome her into our class.

"Her 'prentice hand she tried on man
And then she made the lasses, O."

SARAH HANNAH GUNDERMAN

Pittsburgh, Pa.

Major: Mathematics

F. A. D.; Home Economics Club.

"I'm going to fly off some day" is Hannah's favorite threat but we all just laugh because, you see, we know her, and her unfailing good humor. All of the Physics experiments in Johnson Hall and all of Prof. White's Math have never been able to ruin her happy disposition. Her ability, however, is not confined to scientific questions and one of her appealing talents is that of being a good friend.

"To those who know thee not, no words can

HENRY HARSHMAN GRICE

Frankfort, Indiana

Major: English

Weidner Institute, 1, 2; Physics Club, 3.

To some people who have long known Muskingum students, we might introduce Henry as "Helen Mac's husband." But he really is not one of those "husbands of" persons since he has so many interesting qualities of his own. He only joined our ranks last fall. But he is ever "our friend and we lak him."

"Never idle a moment, but thrifty and thoughtful of others."

JAMES STEWART GUNN

Kimbolton, Ohio

Major: Economics

"Stew" is a young man who has an ever-ready smile. He is genial, always showing himself a good fellow. He makes good recitations, and preserves a very respectful air toward his professors. He possesses that sought-for quality, the "co-operative attitude," and has the knack of asking leading questions to clear up obscure points. He is quite gallant, especially toward the co-eds.

"With just enough of learning to misquote."

ROGER ANDREW HEMPHILL

Salem, N. Y.

Major: Chemistry

Choral Society, 1, 2; French Play, 1, 2; Muscoljuan Staff, 3; French Club, 1, 2, 3;

Roger has red hair, you know what that means, but this time you are mistaken, at least in one respect for Roger keeps a pretty even temper. He is quick, oh so quick to see the funny side of a statement. Nothing affords him greater pleasure than to see the amusing side of people's faces, people's actions and people's talk. But he doesn't do it to the extent that it makes enemies for himself. To cap the climax he is an "A" student which is more than the most of us can say.

"Knowledge comes, but wisdom lingers."

BETTY HACKENBURG

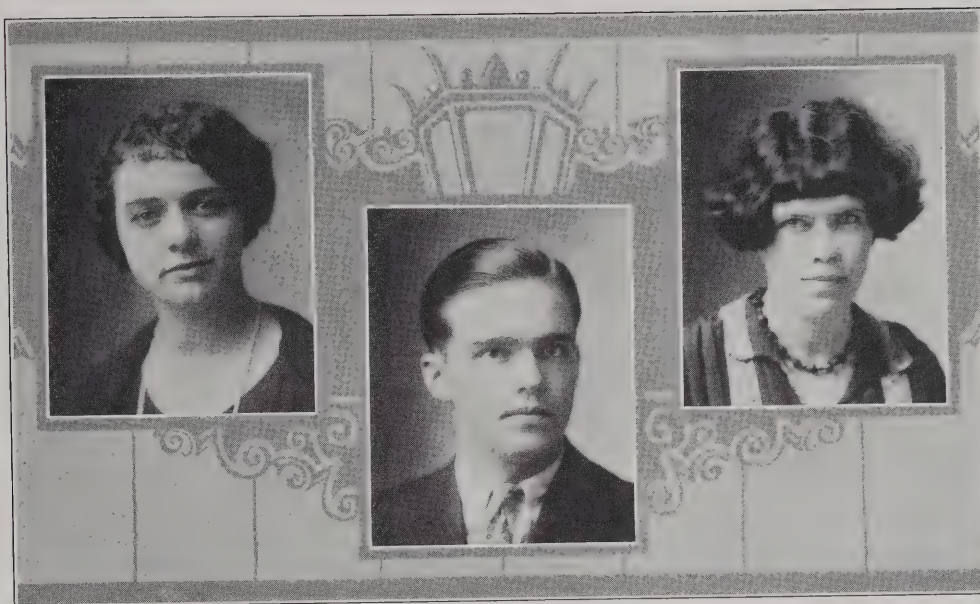

Cambridge, Ohio

Major: History

Wittenberg College, 1, 2.

Betty might be called a transient Junior since she was only a Muskingum girl for one semester. But in spite of her short sojourn here she left an impression of her presence for her smile and gay manner won her many friends. Betty was quite fond of practical jokes, too, nor did she always receive the punishment merited by her crimes. It is rumored that she was the person who "set the Mace House on fire" and gave some young gentlemen a good workout for cross country. We were sorry to lose her as a member of the class of '27 but wish her success in her work at Wittenberg.

"Though lost to sight, to memory dear
Thou ever wilt remain."

FRANCES CATHERINE HADLEY

Pittsburgh, Pa.

Major: History

Where there is one there are two and where you see Phyl you usually see Frances. Frances just came to us this year and many of us are not as well acquainted with her as we would like to be. She is always ready to do her share in anything that is planned for a good time and contributes her share to the general hilarity of any occasion.

"I had rather have a fool to make me merry,

MARGARET HAMMOND

St. Clairsville, Ohio

Major: Home

Choral Society, 3; Hiking Club.

Margaret is one of our members who liked our looks so well when we were Freshmen that she decided to wait a year and let us catch up with her. And she spent that year in the usual way—teaching the young Americans. She never worries other people with her troubles and no matter where you meet her she always has a friendly smile. We are all quite glad she waited and have endeavored to keep her away from this year's Freshies as much as possible.

"Her modest looks the cottage might adorn,
Sweet as the primrose peeps beneath the

DALE DUNCAN HESKETT

Byesville, Ohio

Ohio State University, 1, 2.

Dale is a quiet young man who has entered college with the desire to take a bit of knowledge away with him. With this in mind he applies himself, quite diligently, and doubtless he "shall stand before kings." He is assiduously preparing himself for optometry. He is rather reserved; deliberates before expressing an opinion, and gives it only when asked. He has a liberal philosophy of life, with tolerance as its theme.

"Where more is meant than meets the ear."

EDNA DEBORAH HENDERSON

Quaker City, Ohio Major: Home Economics
Choral Society, 1; Home Economics Club, 1.

One might almost divide the Junior Class into two groups; those who take Home Economics and those who do not. Edna belongs to the first group, and is partly responsible for those appetizing odors which steal through Montgomery Hall and make us all simply ravenous. Since she is taking her degree in Education one might suppose that she intends to teach; but is that a good guess?

"The discovery of a new dish makes more for happiness of man than the discovery of a star."

DELLA MAE HUNNELL

Old Washington, Ohio Major: English
Class Basketball, 3; Class Hockey, 3.

An extreme shyness keeps Della from having a wide circle of acquaintances. She prefers, however, to stick closely to work; recitation and study are the two main items in her college life. She is very quiet, preferring to look on and observe, rather than to be active in participation. English is her chosen field, and such concentration as she puts on it should give her a good understanding of the subject.

"Attempt the end, and never stand to doubt, Nothing's so hard but search will find it out."

KENNETH PATTERSON HUTCHISON

Geology Club, 3.

This good soul is one of those still men who run deep. While he may not be a "wise cracker," he is the first to appreciate one. His laugh is a marvelous thing: it fairly gurgles forth. His greatest gift, perhaps, is an aptitude for securing good bums to and from Xenia. A friend of all, an enemy of none.

"Assurance only breeds resolve."

VIRGINIA THERESA IDDIGS

St. Clairsville, Ohio Major: English

Delta; Home Economics Club, 1, 3; Hiking Club, 1, 2, 3.

Crinkly smiles and curly hair and whimsical laughing eyes—Virginia is pretty. A disposition most happy and pleasant, a personality attractive and charming, a friend sturdy and sincere, a companion delightful and unassuming—Virginia is all of these. Though others more talented, more wise and more commanding, may pass through these halls each day, there are few who leave more pleasant memories in our minds.

"She is not a goddess, an angel, a lily or pearl,
She's just that which is sweetest, completest and neatest
A dear little, queer little, sweet little girl."

NANCY SHANNON JOHNSON

Moundsville, W. Va. Major: French

Choral Society, 1; Dormitory Council, 3; French Club, 3; Glee Club, 1, 3.

The envy of all the fair co-eds of Muskingum is this young lady with the perfect natural marcel. Rainy days and sudden snowstorms hold no terrors for her. In fact they only serve to enhance the beauty of those blonde curls. They are not just a frame for a charming face, for beneath them is hidden quite a store of knowledge. Nancy entered Muskingum last year as a Freshman but is now a Junior. She doesn't consider herself the whole ocean even though she does have waves in her hair and those who know her best have found her to be a most pleasant friend.

"A rosebud set with little wilful thorns
And sweet as English air could make her."

GEORGE STUART JOHNSTON

Freeport, Pa. Major: Economics

Band, 1, 2; Class Basketball 2; Spanish Club, 1.

A man who lives his own life and does it well, that's "Stew." His convictions are not swayed by every gust of public opinion; neither does he impose them on others. A hard worker in all his attempts includes: enough of mechanics to tear down his Ford, enough of art and feeling to give an organ recital, enough physique to be an expert swimmer, and enough of affection to go a long way. Ask "Stew" exactly how far.

"There's more in this than greets the eye."

HANNAH LEONA KALP

Pittsburgh, Pa. Major Biology
Cedarville College, 1, 2.

Here is another person who heard about the interesting class of '27, indeed so much about them that she decided we were the group to which she wanted to belong. So she cast all others, Cedarville College, behind her and came to Muskingum. But during this year she has demonstrated her charming personality and has already made many friends. She is best known as "Bobbie" which somehow seems to just describe her.

"She is pretty to walk with
And witty to talk with
And pleasant too, to think on."

KATHERINE LIVINGSTON KEACH

Akron, Ohio Major: English

Delta; Choral Society, 1, 2; Glee Club, 2, 3; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, 3.

A little word here, another word there, friendly, funny, serious; put all these together and you can pick out Katie. Every person knows her and there are few committees that do not call on her to help out. All in all, you can count on Katie whatever mood you are in and rest assured you will get a sympathetic response.

"The thanks we give are the lives we live."

AELWYN EVAN JONES

Venedocia, Ohio Major: Psychology
Stoic; Choral Society, 1, 2; Baseball Manager, 1, 2, 3.

Jones proudly points to Lloyd George as an example of what a Welshman can do. He is almost as ingenious as his idol in his line, which is explaining why Philadelphia doesn't win the baseball pennant. Baseball is not his only sport, however, for he can quote on occasion scores of contests of every kind with meticulous accuracy. He is hard headed but soft hearted, and willingly does many acts of friendship.

"He comes, scarce knowing what he seeks."

MARY RUTH KOERNER

Clarksburg, W. Va. Major: Home Economics

After a disgusting day when everyone and everything has gone just the opposite way from which you expected, it is decidedly pleasant to be with someone whom we can count on being always the same. Such a person is Ruth; and her unruffled disposition constitutes her chief charm. She makes a most interesting companion and a delightful friend, which is quite an accomplishment, since friendship is so fine a thing.

"A day for toil, an hour for sport,

MARGARET MITCHELL KELSEY

New Concord, Ohio Major: Home Economics

Glee Club, 2, 3; Home Economics Club.

And Peg of the dancing eyes and gleeful laugh. Who of the privileged spectators could forget those Freshman Bible class days when at the call of the 8 o'clock bell Peg, a bit out of breath, dimple hidden ineffectively, would walk in demurely upon the heels of her father, the professor? Or the quality of that glance cast, or should we say rolled, toward the ceiling? A bonnie lassie Margaret, and a clever student, too. Certainly there is no one more interested in French. N'est-ce pas?

"Her speech is graced with sweeter sound
Than in another's song is found."

WILLIAM ROGERS LEYSHON

Cambridge, Ohio

Major: History

Stoic; Wooster College, 1; Band, 3.

Leyshon is one of the entertaining lights of the Stoic House. He and Brankstone form an impromptu vaudeville team that will rank with Van and Schenck. He brightens the corner where he is with unusual success. No doldrums when he is around. At divers times he raids the Dormitory, and spreads cheer. At athletic games he is to be seen in the band, making melody on his oboe. We wish him all the humor in the world.

"With joyful eyes
And lighter-footed than the fox."

RUTH VIOLA LEE

Plainfield, Ohio Major: Mathematics

O. S. U., 1; Class Hockey, 2; Violin Festival, 3.

Mathematics and music often go hand in hand, and we have positive proof of this in the person of Ruth Lee, who majors in mathematics and plays in the Violin Festival at the same time, either of these activities is enough for the average person. Athletics have a charm for her, too, and she handles a hockey stick well. Ruth took her freshman work at Ohio State University.

"And mistress of herself though China fall."

Cedarville, Ohio Major: Home Economics

Cedarville College, 1, 2; Choral Society, 3; Home Economics Club, 3.

Elizabeth entered this year from Cedarville where she took her first two years' work. But that fact has not prevented her from entering heartily into campus activities or from making friends. Home Economics forms her chief interest and quite a successful one, too. She is very active in the work of the Y. W. C. A. and is one of the most loyal members of the association here.

"Her air, her manners, all who saw admired."

JOSEPH ALLEN LLEWELLYN

Pittsburgh, Pa. Major: Chemistry

Sphinx; University of Pittsburgh, 1.

If you have never quite understood the principle of magnetism, try observing Al entering a room in which there is a piano. By some force or other Al is drawn to the instrument and his fingers begin to fly up and down those keys. Al delights in skimming o'er the icy pond in winter and rescuing amateurs from its briny depths in summer. He is a most obliging and social gentleman.

"Thus wisely careless, innocently gay, Cheerful he play'd."

AMANDA LUCAS LOWRY

Indiana, Pa. Major: Mathematics

Indiana State Normal School, 1, 2; Choral Society, 3.

This is Amanda! On another page you will find Esther (Just for those who aren't sure which is which because it is so disgusting to be called your sister all the time). Indiana State Normal claimed Amanda for two years but like a number of others she saw the superior merits of Muskingum and came here this year. Her charm is of an unassuming nature but she has made many friends here in her quiet way.

"He saw her charming but he saw not half
The charms her downcast modesty concealed."

MARGARET ALLEN LEEPER

New Concord, Ohio Major: History

Choral, 1.

Peg's merry eyes and ever-present humor are indications of her pleasant personality. When she drifts into a classroom or the Library all black moods may well pass out in front of her cheerful, happy-go-lucky optimism. It's not the part of optimism which bores you; it's more of a care-free love of laughter and good times. With such an attitude she is a splendid companion. She is more than this, however, for as a friend, she can be sympathetic and gravely quiet in days of worry or sadness.

"The sigh that rends thy constant heart, Shall break thine Edward's, too."

HIRAM FRANKLIN McALLISTER

Parnassus, Pa. Major: Public Speaking

Student Volunteer, 1, 2, 3; Gospel Team, 1.

"There is a time for everything," thinks Frank. "A time to keep silence, and a time to speak." Rarely may he be seen chattering to pass the time away. He goes about his duties in a purposeful manner, as befits a young man with Seminary aspirations. Frank is an enthusiastic supporter of that collegiate sport known as "bumming." This fact may account for his frequent trips to Wilkinsburg—or vice versa.

"Let thy speech be better than silence, or be silent."

KENNETH LINCOLN McKINNEY

West Chester, Ohio

Wooster College, 1.

This young man is gifted with a quick sense of humor, such that from demure gravity he suddenly bursts into laughter. He is quiet about it, too; the symptoms are all present and his mouth open, but no sound is forthcoming. Science is his field, and he makes original investigations in the inflammability of carbon disulfide and the preparation of mercaptin. He is easy-going and good-natured, ever ready to help.

"Here sits he shaping wings to fly."

WALTER JACOB MAGEE

Harmony, Pa.

Major: History

Gospel Team, 2.

Magee made his debut at College as a checker and rook player, taking part in several all-night tournaments of rook. Other evenings he spends on Lakeside. Doubtless that is the reason he deems breakfast superfluous.

He is quite congenial and possesses the qualities that mark a gentleman. He has quite a store of sayings—culled in intensive study—with which he admonishes his friends.

"High-erected thoughts seated in the heart of courtesy."

MARGARET ANDERSON LEITCH

Pittsburgh, Pa.

F. A. D.; Choral Society, 1; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, 2; "A" Association; Class Basketball, 1, 2, 3; Class Hockey, 3.

Yes, everyone knows "Peg" for she's a friendly soul, showing her M. C. spirit wherever she goes. May Day always finds her paying homage to the Queen in some graceful manner and the Junior class basketball and hockey teams find a much needed center and first lineman in "Leitchie." Her interest in Y. W. work made a place for her on the Cabinet last year, so you see she's not a one-sided girl.

"A daughter of the gods, divinely tall, and most divinely fair."

ESTHER LUCILE LOWRY

Indiana, Pa.

Major: History

Indiana State Normal School, 1, 2; Choral Society, 3.

The secrets of ancient inscriptions and the modern problems of our United States, both have a charm for Esther and one may often find her in the library with a huge pile of books beside her delving into history archives. But dusty tombs of ancient lore have not affected her in the traditional way. She is interested in campus activities and has made many friends since coming from Indiana State Normal.

"Not stepping o'er the bounds of modesty."

LINCOLN WAKEFIELD McCONNELL

Aspinwall, Pa.

Major: French

F. A. D.; Y. W. C. A. Treasurer, 3; Muscoljuan Staff, 3; French Club, 3.

It would be quite possible to enlarge upon Lincoln's abilities and talents at great length, to speak with fervor of her sunny smile and golden locks. Having a mental picture of two pursed-up lips and a disconcerting laugh, we will refrain. Lincoln has a sense of humor. For clearer vision and understanding, there are few to compare with Lincoln. Frank? Yes, that is one of her characteristics—to say what she thinks. A thoroughly good lassie and a true pal. What more can we say?

"Faithful to the light within."

ALAN COMSTOCK MAGUIRE

Verona, N. J.

Stag; Class Officer, 1.

Alan traded the mosquitoes of New Jersey for life at Muskingum. He early became prominent in the councils of the class. He is quite impulsive in nature; once an idea seizes him he carries it nobly to completion. He has ability, but allows a whimsical fancy to control its exercise. He has traveled extensively, and can talk interestingly of all he has seen and heard.

"Deeper than e'er plummet sounded."

HAROLD NICHOL MINTIER

New Concord, Ohio

Major: Geology

Stag; "M" Club, 2, 3; Varsity Baseball, 2; Varsity Basketball, 2; Varsity Football, 2, 3; Class Basketball, 1, 3; Class Football, 1.

That genial good looking chap that you meet coming across the desert on his way to class is "Minnie." Contrary to his nickname, he is a real athlete and has the distinction of being the only three major sport letter man on the campus. Harold belongs to the "town rabble" and is a loyal member. Perhaps his most noted personal characteristic is his hearty laugh!

"From the crown of his head to the sole of his foot, he is all mirth."

WILLIAM MOORE MILLIGAN

Avalon, Pa.

Major: Economics

Stag; Glee Club, 1, 2, 3; Librarian, 1; Ass't Mgr., 3; B and M Staff, 2; Choral Society, 3; Class President, 1; Muscoljuan Editor-in-Chief, 3.

School triumphs earned in classes and activities, friendships at will, the high regard of all who know him—these are carved on Bill's record in Muskingum.

And what more could one say, for time would fail to tell of Muscoljuan, B and M, and Glee Club, and of his "Hello," his "line," and his smile, which through cleverness subdued professors, wrought wonders and obtained results.

He dashes about in long overcoats and shiekish garments, being stylish, applauded and befriended. He "wanders" in the Stag House and Cox's Studio. But in all he has obtained a high regard.

Who would believe this verse in time to come
If it were filled with your most high deserts?

MARTHA MEALY McCONNELL

Steubenville, Ohio Majors: English, French,
Diploma in Oratory

French Club, 1 2, 3; French Play, 1; Class Play, 3.

In spite of Martha's quiet ways and her failure to grow to an imposing height, it would be impossible for her to pass through college without being noticed. Why? Oh! Just because of Martha. Perhaps it's partly because of her smile, or her gay little air of having an enchanting secret. The wealth of charm this tainy package possesses is of particular value in her interpretative work. And charm isn't all; Martha has ability, talent, interest in English and French, and she has "Mutt."

"As if she had been put together by someone with a special, secret skill."

SARA MARGARET McFADDEN

Cambridge, Ohio

Majors: English,
Oratory Diploma

F. A. D.; B and M Staff, 2; Muscoljuan Staff, 3; Honor Council, 1; Spanish Club, 2; Inky Pen Club, 2.

That girl with the brown curls and captivating smile is Sara! She has at least two outstanding characteristics, one is a specialty and the other is a hobby. Her specialty is the Public Speaking Department and in that field she is quite talented. Her hobby is cats, especially "Tom" cats. Sara is a splendid student, a capable and charming girl.

"Those can conquer who think they can."

MARY ELLEN McGREGOR

Cambridge, Ohio

Major: English

F. A. D.; Choral Society, 1; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, 3; Class Hockey, 1, 2, 3.

"Mary Mac," the last of the McGregors, has merrily smiled her way into the hearts and friendship of all Muskingum. Whatever may be the occasion, she is always ready to do her share. She is a very active member of the "two-cent club" (you know, postage stamps), and is a regular patron of the U. S. Post Office. Although "Marv Mac" returns often to the old home town, Cambridge, she does not lose any of her interest in M. C., and carries on her work quite successfully in both places.

"Absence makes the heart grow fonder."

JAMES DAVID MOORE

Lawrence, Pa.

Major: Physics

Sphinx; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, 3; Muscoljuan Staff, 3; "M" Club, 2, 3; Football 2, 3; Honor Council, 3; President, 3; Class President, 3; French Club, 1; Physics Club, 2, 3.

Personal testimony of his presence in the above named activities is hard to get from Jim. Modest? Yes, but not too much so, some say. He is greatly in demand by the fairer sex because he won't run after them, so you know his activities do not stop with those named above. Because of what he has already proved himself to be, a good friend and a ready one, to those who do not know him we can say:

"Modest he seems, not shv: content to wait."

WILLIAM PATTERSON MOORE

Hammondsville, Ohio Major: Chemistry

"Bill" has decided after an experiment, that an education is better complete than half-finished so he has returned to the M. C. fold. His mind seems naturally to turn to chemistry for he is to be seen continuously in Johnson Hall. A sensitive nature, pronounced likes and dislikes, and shrewd judgment, withal. He is completing a full college course in three years, yet slighting none of the work. He prefers almost any company to being lonely.

"There's but the twinkling of a star Between a man of peace and war."

WILLIAM GORDON MOORE

New Concord, Ohio Major: Chemistry

Stag; "M" Club, 2, 3; Football, 2, 3;
Class Basketball, 1, 2, 3; Class Football, 1.

"Fat" Moore is one of the New Concord standbys on the football team. He has played guard on the Varsity for the past two years and filled quite a hole in our line. Besides, he has nobly represented our class on the basketball floor for the last three years.

"And man the hermit, sighted—till woman smiled."

VELMA RAY MORROW

Quaker City, Ohio Major: Home Economics

Home Economics Club.

Some people merely go to school; others study. Velma is of sufficiently serious cast to study. She is not a flashy, scintillating character, but has a steady persistent direction of effort towards the end. She is firm in purpose and opinions; once formed, they are not easily moved. "To learn one must teach," and she has taught enough to know how to learn. She is taking Home Economics, so we presume she intends to teach again after graduation.

"A meeting of gentle lights without a name."

ELMA JANESTA NEPTUNE

New Concord, Ohio

Major: Chemistry

To all who in the love of Chemistry, hold communion with its various forms, she speaks a strange language. This individual, whose blithe countenance you see appended, is one who comprehends that tongue. She juggles such terms as tautomerism, ammonolysis, potassium acid dihydroxysuccinate, and leucyl-triglycyl-luecyl-triglycyl-octaglycyl-glycine, with truly appalling abandon. But that is not all. She has a very likeable and amiable personality; and she will not bore you with her erudition.

"But I would shoot, howe'er in vain
A random arrow from the brain."

DOROTHY JEAN NEAL

Mingo Junction, Ohio

Major: History

Delta; Choral, 1, 2, 3; Glee Club, 1, 2, 3; Girls' Quartette, 3; Class Basketball, 1; "A" Association.

Ability to sing and lay, unusually good records in the "A" Association, and excellent grades, might sum up Jean's more outstanding characteristics. Long after Muscoljuan write-ups have faded from remembrance, the recollection of Jean's lovely voice will linger, and when even her music has become only an echo in the brain, the charm and beauty of her personality will not be forgotten.

"She leaves a fragrant memory of a lovely life."

HOWELL EDWARD MORGAN

New Concord, Ohio

Major: Economics

Geology Club, 3.

May we present one of the most industrious fellows in the class, Ed Morgan. Besides ably performing his class work we may see him every day at the Co-Op. Ed likes a good time, too. Remember last year how he let us in the back way of the Town Hall to get the Freshman colors. That is a good example of Ed's class spirit and resourcefulness.

"And still be doing, never done."

LUCILE NICHOL

Brooklyn, N. Y. Major: History
Packer Collegiate Institute, 1, 2.

Lucile is a newcomer at Muskingum, having attended a junior college in Brooklyn. She studies diligently on occasion, but not immoderately. Her chief outside interest is music, for she plays the piano and organ well.

She is not effusive in interest or attention, but little escapes her notice. Doubtless this produces a skepticism of new things, and caution of accepting an idea as good merely because it is new and radical. Her broad tolerance, however, accounts for friendliness and friends.

"Rich in saving common sense."

MILDRED CHRISTINE OGAN

New Concord, Ohio Major: Economics

Mildred does not need a brother's prestige—she makes her own. Quiet, dependable work will win recognition anywhere, and that has been her experience. Life for her is a serious thing, to be lived thoroughly. She misses some of the froth, but has a more solid foundation. She has had few opportunities at college to exhibit her superb horsemanship. We predict her general success, because of her thoroughness.

"Thy modesty's a candle to thy merit."

GLADYS LAFERN OWENS

Glencoe, Ohio Major: History
Choral Society, 1.

Gladys is that goodlooking girl with the winning smile. She is rather retiring. A delicately charming personality has gained for her a select circle of friends. She is of a helping disposition. She has the courage of her convictions, and ably maintains them. Yet she bears no illwill to those who think differently. Whatever she engages in, she always registers with her quota.

"The flower she touch'd on, dipt, and rose
And turned to look at her."

CELIA PARKS

Kimbolton, Ohio

Majors: Bible,
Home Economics

Choral Society, 3; Student Volunteers, 1, 2, 3.

Celia's soft voice is one of the most pleasant sounds on the campus and no matter how grumpy you may be, you'll always find Celia quite serene. One sees her frequently in Dr. Kelsey's office—oh, no, not "on the carpet"—but at the reading table delving into impressive looking volumes of Biblical lore because she has chosen the foreign field for her life work. To whatever land she may go, we are confident that her earnestness and quiet simplicity will carry her far in her chosen work.

"My crown is called content;
A crown it is that seldom kings enjoy."

RUTH ANNE PATTERSON

Beaver Falls, Pa. Majors: Economics, English

Class Basketball, 3; Class Hockey, 1, 3.

That slow smile of quiet enjoyment, a twinkle in the eye, and a quick jump at conclusions—that's Pat. Activity is her middle name, her hockey, and especially basketball, records are most noteworthy, and Dorm-ites can testify that she does not miss out on many social events that go on round this campus. She's a true M. C. girl and one whom our class is proud to claim.

"Her friends, they are many;
Her foes, are there any?"

JOHN CHARLES PAUL

Wheeling, W. Va.

Major: Political Science

Gospel Team, 2.

"Duke" hails from Wheeling. This fact fairly smites one when in his presence. For two years he was an exile from his source of comfort. As the knowing Junior that he is, he now is a bona fide member of Muskingum, with its society.

He is a good loyal friend and a student as well. He is quiet and reserved, and his actions here on the campus portray him as a gentleman. He is attracted by athletics, particularly tennis.

"Of manners gentle, of affections mild,
In wit a man, in simplicity a child."

JULIA FRANCES PLUMER

Marietta, Ohio Major: Public Speaking

Choral Society, 1; Glee Club, 2, 3; Class Basketball, 2, 3; Class Hockey, 2, 3; Dormitory, 3.

Whether the question at issue is a trivial one concerning the World Court or a weighty one about how to successfully hold a midnight spread in the Dorm, Julia usually has a happy solution. She is actively interested in all types of activity on the campus. We are glad that her friendships need not be in proportion to her stature; and her intimate friends are proud of their privilege.

"That still the wonder grew
That one small head could hold all she knew."

MARTHA GERTRUDE PICKENS

Martins Ferry, Ohio Major: Latin

Caesar's Commentaries and the ablative absolute hold no terrors for Gertrude and some high school student will profit by her knowledge. She doesn't belong to the pony express, either. She comes from Martins Ferry, which to some Muskingum people is a recommendation in itself. Gertrude has spent some time instructing the youth of southeastern Ohio, but has returned to us again.

"Her looks do argue her replete with modesty."

JESSE PETTY

Cadiz, Ohio Major: Chemistry

Kent Normal School, 1.

"Captain" Petty derives his appellation from his piloting of the dangerous Fort Mustard quintet through intramural basketball this year. In the fall he plays football. College, to him, is an entretemps for teaching. Chemistry is eventually to be his line; he may be seen slipping like a ghost through the murky clouds of Johnson Hall. He is quite good-looking, and if not magnetic, has a pleasing personality.

"And gladly wolde he lerne, and gladly teche."

JOSEPH JOHNSON POORMAN

Bellaire, Ohio Major: Political Science

Stoic; "M" Club, 3; Varsity Baseball, 2; Class Basketball, 1, 2, 3; Spanish Club.

Joe has listed his major as Political Science but a close second is bird anthology. He is making a particular study of the "Martin" family. Besides his major interests he is a baseball player and lends his hand to Junior basketball, too. A "good scout" is Joe and a loyal member of the Junior Class.

"A lion among ladies is a most dreadful thing."

EDGAR WILLIAM RAMAGE

Warnock, Ohio Major: Public Speaking

"Sheik" won this appellation the first month he was in school. He has done nothing since to impair the characterization. He is not flashy nor brilliant, but he has been steady and persistent in his undertakings, whether manipulating a "bug" or ferreting out the phantoms of Psychology. He has that indefinite something which makes people like him. He certainly did not come to college to get married, and gives promise of leaving college without making definite arrangements.

"Here have we one,
Steady in counsel and sure in act."

NANCY JEAN RAMSEY

Ligonier, Pa. Major: English

Noiselessly as the Indian treads the leaves of the forest, so does Nancy pass through the halls of Montgomery. Quiet her manner, an enigma to her classmates, but with her friends she throws away that mask of stillness. Not often does Nancy spend those hours after dinner in her room, for why does the evening exist if not that the cares of the day be forgotten in the delight of pleasurable company?

"Coquette and coy at once her air."

ELIZABETH ROBINSON REEDER
Kittanning, Pa. Majors: English,
Public School Music

Delta.

"Eby" is quite interested in the Home Economics Department although it does not come among her majors. Perhaps her interest in the sewing department speaks well for her future vocation of "Tayloring." "Eby" is the most friendly soul a newcomer would want to fall in with; she always guarantees a good time for the crowd she is with. Here's good luck to you, "Eby," whatever you do!

"A noble type of good heroic womanhood."

ANN EVELYN ROGERS
Bellefontaine, Ohio Majors: Biology,
Home Economics

Choral Society, 1, 2, 3; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, 3; Class Basketball, 2, 3; Class Hockey, 2, 3; Home Economics Club, 3; Dormitory Council, 3; Class Play, 3.

Did you ever wonder what was the reason why we could buy candy in Montgomery Hall? Well, Ann is the reason! She is quite the financier and the Y. W. would soon be wealthy if Ann continued to satisfy the "sweet tooth" of the College. When it comes to athletics, Ann has a way of swinging the hockey stick that makes her opponents shudder. A capable girl is Ann, and a real friend.

"My heart is as true as steel."

HARRY EARL REMER
Cambridge, Ohio Major: Economics

Harry lives in the metropolis of Cambridge like so many of our faithful M. C. people. He travels back and forth so much of the time that we who are in New Concord all the time don't get many chances to become well acquainted. But we do know that Harry's a "jolly; good fellow," always willing to pick someone up in his car and give him a lift to Cambridge.

"Silence is the perfectest herald of joy."

RACHEL RAE RUSSELL

Springfield, Mass.

Major: English

Rachel Rae Russell—chief aid to Professor Work in the office. She knows more about you than you know about yourself, but is one of those blessed women who can keep silence. Rachel pileth A upon A with ease, as if A's were to be tossed around like toy blocks. Perhaps it is because she doesn't have to worry about such insignificant things that she can live a life of serenity and quiet poise. To those who are nearest to her she continually grows more dear and fine and true.

"There is a kind of character in thy life that to the observer doth thy history fully unfold."

JANET SEVILLE

Newburgh, N. Y.

Major: English

Delta; B and M Staff, 2, 3; Muscoljuan Staff, 3; "A" Association, 1, 2, 3; Class Hockey, 2; Class Officer, 2; Spanish Club, 2, 3.

Brown eyes and curly hair make a combination that is hard to resist, and when we find added to them a delightful personality, we have a person whom we are proud to call a friend. She is always so charmingly gracious that we enjoy being with her at any time. Janet has that happy faculty of using words and has contributed her share to the success of Muskingum's publications. Because of her ability, her charm, her friendliness, we would say that, were we choosing a girl to typify the spirit of Muskingum, we would choose Janet.

"Age cannot wither her, nor custom stale
Her infinite variety."

ROBERT WEST ROBINSON

Newell, W. Va.

Major: Economics

W. Va. University, 1; University of Pittsburgh, 2.

Bob Robinson is the checker champion of the Johnson House. Besides that he has other accomplishments. He always has an answer for the Prof.; is widely acquainted over the campus and comes from the East Liverpool vicinity. Bob believes firmly in Muskingum, East Liverpool, and the Ohio Valley.

"A proper man as one shall see in a summer's day."

ALICE KING SPANGLER

Bellevue, Pa.

Major: English

Delta; Choral Society, 1, 2, 3; Glee Club, 1, 2, 3.

Her envied record in vocal productions put on at Muskingum makes Alice well known among the student body. Her voice is not the only thing that speaks for her—after one first sees her it is not likely that one will forget the friendly appearance she has and the genial smile which speaks for itself. She is another "Pittsburgher" who has made a place for herself at M. C.

"A song will outline all sermons in the memory."

ELIZABETH SHAW

Utica, Ohio

Major: History

Class Basketball, 1; Class Hockey, 3.

In hockey and basketball what would we have done without Elizabeth? Her enthusiasm and ability have been a great asset in interclass contests. Elizabeth is always ready for whatever may come up and may be counted upon if something interesting promises to develop. Rather indefinite, yes, but we couldn't tell on her.

"The sweetest noise on earth, a woman's tongue."

HARRY JOHN SCHEIDEMANTLE

New Castle, Pa.

Major: History

Gospel Team, 1, 2; Varsity Track, 2; Geology Club, 2.

This amicable gentleman is a source of much amusement to those who are so fortunate as to reside in the same house; he simply brims with witty apothems. His prowess as a wrestler extends the length of the Boulevard. Nor does Mr. Scheidemantle confine his superiority to the above-mentioned pursuits. He is perfectly in his element in the classroom. While partial to the fair co-eds, he is true to his first love, History, and dates must take second place.

"Egad, he hath a merry wit."

JOSEPHINE ELIZABETH STEVENSON

New Concord, Ohio

Major: Oratory

F. A. D.

"Joe," as she is called, we understand also that she is "Caldwell." Another enthusiastic patron of Uncle Sam's postal service. She is a vivacious sort of person and impresses everyone with her spontaneous friendliness. Because of illness "Joe" was not with us the first semester, but we are happy to have her back again, and hope that she will be able to continue as a member of the class of '27.

"She is a woman; and therefore to be wooed;
She is a woman; therefore to be won."

DOROTHY AGNES STEVENSON

Prospect, Pa. Major: Public School Music

Ohio U., 1, 2; Violin Festival, 3.

Dorothy is a girl who keeps well within herself. As an artist she has the idiosyncrasies and spirit of the best. Her chief interest in life is music. As she receives a diploma in Public School Music this year, she will not likely return. This we regret, for she is an accomplished violinist, and we would see more of her.

"And the sighing sob of a violin Awakened responsive chords."

LESLIE ERLE SEPTER

Tippecanoe, Ohio

Major: Biology

Stoic; Biology Club.

"Sep" is one of the best men to sustain an argument that we know of. He can discern fallacies in reasoning and expose them too plainly to fear ordinary wranglers. When other subjects pall, he concocts some new theory of love, which never fails to stimulate discussion. He is quite independent but any time that he can advance a friend he uses every power in his service.

"He could distinguish and divide
A hair 'twixt south and southwest side."

ANNA RUTH THOMPSON

Cambridge, Ohio

Major: French

F. A. D.; French Play, 2; Muscoljuan Staff, 3; Student Council, 3; Dormitory Council, 3; French Club, 1, 2, 3.

One could write volumes about "Tommy" and still the half would not be told. Her talents were buried in widely different fields and she has not been content to let them stay buried. Intellectually, socially, and mischievously, "Tommy" cannot be surpassed. She has a twinkle in her eye that makes you want to become acquainted and a lively charm that makes you quite glad that you did.

"Mixed reason with pleasure and wisdom with mirth."

Cedarville, Ohio

Major: Home Economics

Cedarville College, 1, 2; Choral Society, 3; Home Economics Club, 3.

Elizabeth entered this year from Cedarville College where she took her first two years' work. But that fact has not prevented her from entering heartily into campus activities or from making friends. Home Economics forms her chief interest and quite a successful one, too. She is very active in the work of the Y. W. C. A. and is one of the most loyal members of the association here.

"Her air, her manners, all who saw admired."

HARRY LEE TAYLOR

Flushing, Ohio

Major: Economics

Sphinx.

Sure, you know the black-haired fellow who always grins in such a friendly manner when you pass. Often he picks you up with his Lizzie, which more than ever convinces you of his altruistic spirit. Well, that's Harry, the particular friend of more than one and the friendly acquaintance of many.

"A blithe heart makes a blooming visage."

GLADYS LILLIAN TRIMBLE

Butler, Pa. Majors: English, Spanish

"A" Association; Class Hockey, 1, 2, 3; Spanish Club, 2.

"Trim"; her nickname fits her more ways than being merely an abbreviated portion of her name. She is trim in appearance, acts trimly in her athletic business, and trimly trills her Spanish "r's." If that isn't enough ways to fit one's name then "Trim" will supply the other ways if you tell her.

"Mirth, with thee I mean to live."

FAYE JUANITA TURNER

New Concord, Ohio Major: Public Speaking

Choral Society, 1; Class Basketball, 1; Class Hockey, 1; Class Play, 3.

Faye is one of our genuine brunettes; let us be thankful that she is just as genuine in all her ways. Although she is engrossed in Oratory, correspondence to West Virginia is not neglected. Faye has great faith in her fellowmen and the happy habit of trusting her friends, of whom there are a host. She is always ready for a good time, and knows just how to enjoy herself thoroughly.

"True as the needle to the pole,
Or as the dial to the sun."

FREDERIC LEE THOMPSON

Xenia, Ohio Major: Mathematics

Cedarville College, 1, 2; Choral Society, 3.

After two years at Cedarville, "Fred" sought new worlds to conquer; so invaded Muskingum. He is quite a thorough student, examining details with meticulous care. Yet in class he almost drawls, so that he might organize the material for the best presentation. He favors his associates with frequent flashes of humor. What the attraction at the F. A. D. house is, we cannot imagine.

"Waiting to strive a happy strife,
To war with falsehood to the knife,
And not to lose the good of life."

GRACE UMSTEAD

Pittsburgh, Pa. Major: History
Hiking Club; Class Basketball, 2, 3; Choral Society.

Yes—another from Pittsburgh! Although Grace has just been with us this year, she has fit into Muskingum life so well that we feel she has caught the true M. C. spirit. Her efficiency in committee work is extraordinary, and thus far she has a variety of commendable activities. Here is one of her creeds: "Wander ye not from the straight and narrow path that leads to Aye!" In addition, Grace has made a great number of friends, and all because she has proven a real friend herself.

"Mix'd reason with pleasure, and Wisdom with mirth."

FANCHON FLOCELLA WARFIELD

Dexter City, Ohio Major: Home Economics
Choral Society, 3.

Fanchon is one of the snappiest, peppiest girls we know. She is full of nerve and energy. This is not aimless bustle, for she is very purposeful and capable. She does everything with her might, and thus it is done well. She belligerently defends Muskingum from any aspersion, but otherwise is quite good-natured. A wise providence gave her special aptitude in Home Economics. Possibly she will teach it—for a while.

"Whatever is worth doing at all
Is worth doing well."

MARY HELEN WATSON

Fairpoint, Ohio Major: Home Economics

There is a girl in a college in Ohio who has long hair! A fact which under the present conditions indicates great strength of will. Unassuming in manner, Helen has a personality which radiates a quiet friendliness that makes the day just a little happier for those who are with her. She is interested in Y. W. C. A. work and has been a very active member of the association on the campus.

"I count myself in nothing else so happy
As in a soul remembering my good friends."

RUTH HAZEL WATSON

New Concord, Ohio

Major: English

Delta; Choral Society, .

Ruth belongs to the village of New Concord. For this reason the old Muskingum spirit has been instilled into her so much until she fits into any niche in the college life where an efficient and reliable person is needed. Aside from these qualities her steady friendship makes her unforgettable to those whom she counts among her friends.

"A Friend—the link in life's long chain that bears the greatest strain."

OLIVE LOUISE WATTS

Peebles, Ohio

Major: English

In days of old when knights were bold a girl like Olive would have been the lady fair of many an old ballad and rich painting. In nineteen twenty-six such shadowy dreamy eyes have not lost power but are just as elusive, whimsical and baffling. Olive has preferred a small circle of most intimate friends to a larger circle of acquaintances. Certain it is that the friends who are close around her have reason to be glad of her choice.

"The very smile before you speak
That dimples your transparent cheek
Encircles all the heart."

HARRY BLISS WALDORF

New Bethlehem, Pa.

Major: Chemistry

Stoic; Clarion State Normal School, 1;
"M" Club, 2, 3; Varsity Football, 2, 3;
Class Football, 1; Benzene Ring, 2, 3.

Waldorf, rarely if ever, is called by his first name, and he never spoke again to the man who called him by his middle name. He made the varsity football team his Sophomore year, and his playing has reached real brilliance. He holds forth in Johnson Hall, for he contends that in a few years the country will need a good doctor. He does not hesitate in what he says or does; a hearty, bluff, rough-and-ready sort of a man. Yet there are softening influences at work, and "Martha and I," is often heard in Stoic halls.

"You said your say;
Mine answer was my deed."

MARJORIE WHARTON

Elba, Ohio

Major: French

Wawyn; Class Play, 3; French Play; Class Basketball.

An intimate characterization: "A good sport." She is quite even-tempered, except that a quizzical twist makes her light-hearted. Allied graces are the ability to place the diffident at ease, and the art to draw them into action. We understand she is a good basketball player. She is quite musical, and draws from a piano either melody or syncopation.

"Care to our coffin adds a nail, no doubt,
And every grin so merry draws one out."

SARAH FLEMING WHITE

Wheeling, W. Va.

Delta; Hiking Club, 1; Class Hockey, 1; Class Basketball, 2; French Club, 3.

"Sal" is the darling of a great many hearts and she lives in Wheeling, West Virginia, which cannot be held against her. "Sal" can Charleston with the best of them—in fact she can teach the best of them how. Her laughter is infectious and wholesome, her ability to act the fool unique, but when the laughing and the gayety have died away one sees a "Sal" of quiet eyes and sympathetic manner. To only a few does she reveal a self most lovely and rich in beautiful ideals and deeds.

"Of all the girls that are so sweet, there's none like pretty Sally."

DOROTHY LUCILE WHITE

Cambridge, Ohio

Major: Home Economics

F. A. D.; Choral Society, 1; French Play, 1; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, 3; Muscoljuan Staff, 3; Class Hockey, 1, 2.

62 High Street is quite a familiar address to "Dot's" friends and has been the scene of numberless lively gatherings. Although "Dot" hails from Cambridge and returns there once in a while she has succeeded in maintaining a very active interest in athletics, Y. W. C. A., and her class. We might say that "Dot" has captured the secret of charm, since she has an interest in everything and an especial interest in one thing (or person). You may blame her, too, for that snap which appears unknown to you in the snapshot section.

"Nothing lovelier can be found in woman,

WINIFRED FORSYTHE WILLIS

Irwin, Pa. Majors: History, Political Science

Student Volunteers, 1, 2; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, 2; Class Play, 3.

There is perhaps no more interested worker in the whole Y. W. C. A. than "Winnie" Willis. It is not strange that much has been trusted to her for she is dependable and alert. Winifred is on her way to a cum or magna cum lauda or one of those mystical things, and the indications are that it is on its way to her. Winifred is a most interesting character to know, and a splendid friend with whom to live.

"Serene and interesting and very wise
Most erudite in curious old lore."

MAE ELIZABETH WOOD

Tarentum, Pa. Major: Home Economics

Wawyin; Home Economics Club.

There is a question in the minds of Mae's friends whether or not her Home Economics is for class room work alone. They rather doubt it. Some people too, have the impression that Mae is a great lover of nature since she talks so much about dells, but her "Del" is concerned more with "Woods" than with valleys. Mae is a member of the Wawyin Club, and she and her mother are responsible for the homelikeness of their clubhouse.

"But there's nothing half so sweet in life
As love's young dream."

MARY CRAIG WILLIS

Irwin, Pa. Majors: Latin, French

Choral Society, 1, 2, 3; French Club; Home Economics Club.

Mary lives in Pennsylvania but does not give her address as Pittsburgh or Philadelphia, which shows a remarkable degree of self control and will power. Mary also belongs to that organization of Muskingum people known as P. K.'s, which being translated is, "Preacher's Kids." Tennis seems to be her favorite outdoor sport and warm days usually find her on the courts. But whether she has won a love set yet or not, she has never told, so it remains another Muskingum secret.

"Gentle in their manner, they Do bold things in a quiet way."

LEILA A'DREY YOUNG

New Concord, Ohio

Major: Diploma in Oratory

Delta; Choral Society, 1, 2, 3; Glee Club,
2, 3; Geology Club; B. and M. Staff, 3.

If you should first meet her on the street, it's a magazine cover you would be comparing her to; a tall, distinguished blonde, such as Neysa McMein paints. If you were to see her first sitting on the campus, you would claim she had stepped across a picture frame and fifty years into our day. But it is not appearance alone which make A'Drey so attractive, it's her personality, so clever and unusual and her talent for impersonation and interpretative work.

"The light of her spirit shines through;
Something elusive, whimsical, tender, wanton and wise."

CLASS COLORS Scarlet and Gray

As to achievements, the class of '28 has proved itself already worthy of attention. With the football and basketball squads made up chiefly from fellows of this class, who can say that they are not showing us that "actions speak louder than words"? They have contributed their share to "B. and M." work and are striving for fuller recognition on the Glee Clubs and Debate Squad. This class almost rivaled its sister class of '26, by winning all except one of its Scrap Day encounters. Good sportsmanship and pep are indicative of the attitude of this class toward college affairs in general. They are still quite young in actions, though, and frequently get reproof from the upperclassmen. We hope for them that in their senior year they will not have fallen in their steady march toward success and will give us cause, in '28, to be proud because they stayed with us.

CLASS COLORS Purple and Gold

Although perhaps the Freshman Class has not attained a number proportionate to foregoing freshman classes yet we cannot say that it has lacked quality. It was, no doubt, a little quieter to start the year with and maybe a little more unruly in conforming to the rules imposed upon it; but there were many, other than first-year students, who rejoiced to see Scrap Day result in a two to one decision in favor of the Class of '29. This class has, we are confident, potentialities yet unrealized and in the coming three years of its school history it will add its full share to the glory of Muskingum.

ATHLETICS

A Report on Muskingum Athletics

Muskingum College athletics seem in a prosperous condition. I am writing at the close of the varsity basketball season. The basketball tournament for the high schools of rank A in Southeastern Ohio was held at the College gymnasium on March 5-6th. The girls' teams representative of the College classes have about completed their contests. Everyone seems to be pleased with the outcome of our athletics so far this season. The record for the varsity football team is good and that for the varsity basketball is rather exceptional; the athletic committee have awarded gold medals to the coach and members of the basketball team. Such awards are now given only to winning teams. The outlook for baseball and track is good. We have more baseball pitchers than usual and seem to have the promise of a representative team. Some thirty to forty men have reported already for track. Our new track in connection with the stadium promises much for this sport. The stadium itself has demonstrated its value for one season and promises much for the future. This year we have developed a cross-country team which gave a good account of itself. Also in boxing our representative won the medium-heavy college honors at Cincinnati. Our great need at present is that of an up-to-date gymnasium that can provide an exercise room for the faculty, can provide for our intra-mural girls' basketball teams, our academy team as well as for our varsity and the hundreds of spectators who desire to see our home contests.

I wish to say just a word about our coaching staff and the morale of our teams. Much of our recent success is due certainly to the excellent morale within the coaching staff and thus induced into the teams and to the excellent character of our athletes. The school recognizes that our coaches have the highest interest of the school at heart and that our athletes are amateur in every respect and real representatives of the College. I am sure our Alumni and friends join with us in the hope and confidence that our athletics are going to attain and maintain an even higher standard of excellence.

J. J. SMITH,
Chairman of Faculty Athletic Committee.

Coaches

Muskingum is quite fortunate in having a coaching staff of extraordinary calibre; experts in athletic technique, experienced players, and successful and inspiring leaders of men.

In Lange, the Director of Athletics and Coach of Football and Basketball, Muskingum has the main cog in the athletic machinery. The honor which the athletic teams have conferred upon Muskingum this year is, in the main, due to Coach Lange. Winning teams have been made possible only through the persistent drilling, the superior coaching and instructing of the men. The players were inspired and challenged to their best at all times because of his individual manner and forceful personality.

Stone, the Assistant Director of Athletics and Coach of Track and Freshman Athletics, in this, his third year at Muskingum, has shown himself an indispensable member of the coaching staff. His ability to pick and develop Freshman athletes has contributed in a large measure to the success of the varsity teams. Under his direction, track has become prominent among the Fall and Spring sports. Coach Stone's ability and experience, coupled with a native coaching manner have been the main factors in the successful track season and development of an undefeated Cross Country Team in the first year of this sport.

Morehead, the Graduate Manager of Athletics and Coach of Baseball, has proven himself an efficient business man and a successful coach. In this latter capacity, he is hard to beat. He has taken experienced and unexperienced material and through expert instruction, polished the playing of individuals in such a fashion as to produce a smooth working and successful Baseball Team. Coach Morehead's work on the coaching staff is worthy of high commendation.

Football

FOOTBALL SQUAD, 1925

CAPTAIN THOMPSON

Review of the 1925 Football Season

By turning in the record of no defeats on the new stadium the 1925 football team will go down in the history of the school as one of the greatest teams to represent Muskingum in athletics.

The success of the team this year can be attributed to three main factors: the dauntless spirit with which the team went through the season; the splendid work and sacrifice of the coaches, and the support given the team by the students. This latter factor was demonstrated at the Denison game where defeat and the rain storm could not break their spirit.

The entire squad averaged only a little over 150 pounds this year, which is much lighter than most of their opponents but they kept their fight in face of these odds.

Rio Grande came up here with the determination to give Muskingum a bad defeat to open the season on the new McConagha Field. They gave us a very good game with the score 7-7 at the end of the contest.

The other home games were more successful from our view-point, defeating Capital, Hiram, Otterbein and Ohio Northern by large scores. The two games played abroad were, however, not so favorable to the Magenta team, losing to Kenyon and Heidelberg.

THOMPSON, '26, CAPTAIN

Cameron, H. S., W. Va.

Weight 132

Halfback

Capt. Thompson deserves much of the credit for the successful season we had this year. His example of "determination" often kept the morale of the team up against great odds. He also held the record for total yards gained. He did this because he would never give up until he had made the touchdown or else a whole team was on top of him.

J. MOORE, '27, CAPTAIN-ELECT

Lawrence, H. S., Pa.

Weight 165

Tackle

After all it usually is the man who is saying the least who is doing the most work. Jim has always been one of the main-stays of the line. His big feature is to tear up the opponents line and make a tackle back of the line of scrimmage. We wish you the very best of luck as you lead the team in the 1926 season.

MINTIER, '27

Muskingum Academy

Weight 156

Quarterback

"Minnie" staged a great come-back this season. An injury received in baseball kept him out of the lineup at the first of the season. Upon recovery he proved his ability by going straight to the quarterback position, which he handled with ease and skill.

F. CLARK, '27

Westinghouse H. S., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Weight 162

Fullback

"Red" stands among the leaders of our squad in gaining yards. His track ability serves him well in speed and foot-work and makes him very hard to tackle. His quickness and alertness also makes him a very good defensive man.

W. MOORE, '27

Muskingum Academy

Weight 165

Guard

When you see a long gain made through the right side of the line, you may say that the "back" made a good gain, but don't forget how he was aided by the Right Guard. Offense is "Fat's" big point. He can be depended upon to do his share at the right time, always "talking" it up and keeping the line fighting.

WALDORF, '27

Hawthorn, H. S., Pa.

Weight 168

Tackle

Harry can be called one of the most consistent players on the Magenta line. His plays are never so spectacular but he can be depended upon to be in the hardest scrimmage, and come out of it with something accomplished.

HARROP, '28

Shawnee H. S.

Weight 196

Guard and Tackle

Walter is an athlete of the old school. He sets his pace and then keeps up to it throughout the season. The very fact that he never played football before in contrast with the game he played this year allows us to expect great things from him next year.

SHANE, '28

Bridgeville, H. S., Pa.

Weight 164

Guard

Joe's work against men who were given All-State mention shows that he is one of our best players. He can cut through a line, get down under punts or cover a fumble like a professional.

C. ORR, '28

Wellsville H. S.

Weight 167

Fullback

With many others "Red" has two outstanding features. It is very seldom that he fails to kick over fifty yards. At plunging the line, his average is among the best. In fact it is very seldom that he is stopped without making several yards for his Alma Mater.

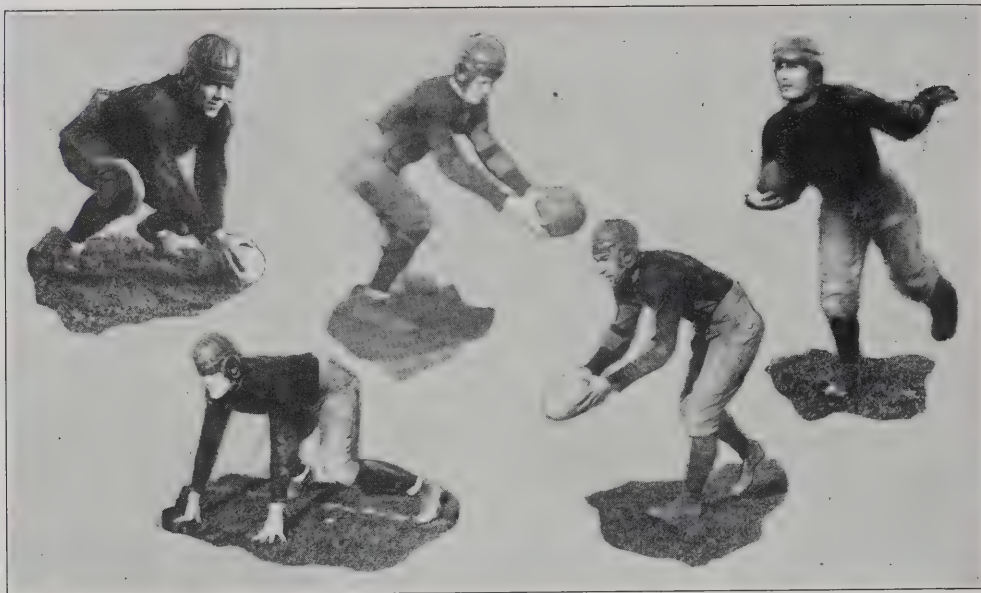

SELBY, '28

Martins Ferry H. S.

Weight 165

Fullback

Muskingum's driving, plunging fullback. "Dick" showed remarkable ability in plunging through the line for large gains consistently. On the defense as halfback he was adept at breaking up passes and throwing opposing runners for losses. His spectacular 85-yard run after intercepting a forward pass in the Ohio Northern game, is another bright mark in Muskingum's athletic annals.

BEAVON, '28*Martins Ferry H. S.

Weight 146

Center

"Little but mighty" does not half do justice to Jesse. What he lacks in stature he makes up for in fight. His real worth, however, is proved by the few number of yards gained through the center of our line, and the goodly number of opponents plays that have been broken up by our own Center.

BALLENTYNE, '27Xenia H. S.

Weight 187

Guard

"Bob" gave everything he had this year to make the season a success and his efforts were not in vain. He has developed into one of the best guards M. C. has ever had. We wish him ever more success next year which by the way will be his last chance at intercollegiate football.

WILSON, '28Muskingum Academy

Weight 122

Quarterback

"Red" is the "gray matter" of the team. His size makes him work under a large handicap but his fight and endurance puts him in the class that never die. It is safe to say that Muskingum never had a quarterback that understood his part of the game any better than "Red."

R. CLARK, '28Indiana H. S.

Weight 158

Halfback

It was Reed's extremes that gave him his place on the team. He seemed gifted with the ability to know where a play was going and be able to meet it on the line. He could place-kick with accuracy—even being known to make "21 straight."

WEED, '28Camden H. S.

Weight 148

Halfback

Although "Bob" lacked only two quarters to have earned his football letter yet his fleetness and speed on off tackle plays and end runs gained many a yard for Muskingum when needed most. His fighting spirit was a pep generator for the whole team.

TAYLOR, '28*Crooksville H. S.

Weight 186

End

"Bob" is one of our versatile players. He can carry the ball, pass, kick or receive passes with equal ability. His punts have saved M. C. from several very dangerous positions and his long arms have caught passes which registered no less than six touchdowns.

TODD, '28Wellsville H. S.

Weight 150

Halfback, Quarterback

Merle was fortunate in possessing a real football head and in being able to use it at all points of the game. Although he did not receive a letter, his work on the field was at many times flashy, which took several games "off the ice."

BAIN, '28Muskingum Academy

Weight 169

Guard, Center

"Betty" came to the Magenta squad with a very commendable record from the Academy. He, however, did not disappoint us this year. His size and level headedness makes him a great asset to the team at either the guard or center position.

G. CLARK, '28Indiana H. S., Pa.

Weight 156

End

"Woody" is another debutant in collegiate football this year. His work at going down under punts and carrying the ball from passes has been a big factor in aiding Muskingum to put the ball into the opponents' territory. His speed has turned many an enemy's play into the center and his hard tackle has stopped many another.

RUTAN, '26Cameron H. S., W. Va.

Halfback

Bartley has never had a real chance to prove his worth to M. C. until this year, on account of injuries. In the Rio Grande game we saw him do some real work. He could break up plays, gain yards and make touchdowns with equal ability.

Forward

In "Speedo" we had one of the fastest floor men in the Conference. His exceptional ability to handle himself as well as keep in possession of the ball was one of the important things in the offense. He was given a place on the All-Conference team and mentioned on the All-Ohio. The loss of "Speedo" by graduation will be keenly felt and his place hard to fill.

Walter Harrop, Captain-Elect
Guard

The men on the squad say that it is a real treat and a pleasure to play with a man like Harrop. His work on the floor is among the best and his sportsmanship is commendable. At taking the ball off the banking board he has no rival in the state. When a long shot is necessary to make the game a little safer Walter always makes it.

Robert Taylor
Center

By a unanimous vote of the coaches and critics of Ohio, Bob was given the center position on the mythical All-Ohio team. This is a self-explanatory statement to show his ability. He led the Conference in scoring with a total of 172 points in nine games. He was never outjumped by an opponent — another thing which we can say, with all due credit to alumni, he is the best center Muskingum ever had.

Clifford Orr
Forward

"Red" was one of the big scoring spokes in our wheel of success, being third in points scored. Although handicapped by a bad knee, as a result of football, his peer at taking the ball off at center has not been seen for many years. In the last games of the season he shot them in from any position that he happened to be in. His generalship at giving signals and his clever floor work were big factors in the capture of the coveted gonfalon.

Glenn Clark

Guard

"Woody" helped the Magenta team to win the Conference title by stopping the opponents' scoring. He also was able to get away for at least as many points as the man he was guarding. His speed was lessened to some extent by a broken bone in his foot, but he did his best, which was a lot in face of the handicap.

Charles Bradbury

Forward

"Charlie" proved to us this season that all the hopes we had of his ability on the floor were well founded. His speed and alertness put him through the Otterbein defense for seven goals in five minutes. Although handicapped the last of the season by injuries he always came through when buckets were needed.

James Orr

Guard

"Jim" started showing his real wares on the Cleveland trip where his shooting and guarding were of the best. From then on till the end of the season he was the worry of the opposing forwards. He played his best game of the season at Kenyon when he held the versatile Van Epps scoreless in the second half.

Herbert Bain

Guard

"Betty" cannot be termed as a flashy player but he showed ability in intercepting more dangerous passes of the opponents than most ordinary players. He handles the ball on the floor with ease and when necessary can be counted on for baskets—the thing that made this year's team famous.

Robert Weed

Forward

"Bob," though not very tall, made up for his shortcoming in that field by his fleetness and shooting ability. He seemed to catch the point-getting disease that afflicted the whole team and in the Kenyon game made points seemingly at will.

Walter Wilson

Forward

Although failing to make his letter "Red" was one of the big assets to the team. He always had the fight and pep that was necessary to keep the rest of the boys going at top speed.

Edward Chipley

Forward

"Eddie," though extremely small, was one who stuck it out for the whole season and made it possible for the Varsity to have such good opposition in their scrimmages. Ed still has another year in which to make his letter and someone will be forced to step in order to keep him from it.

Coach Lange

Wittenberg

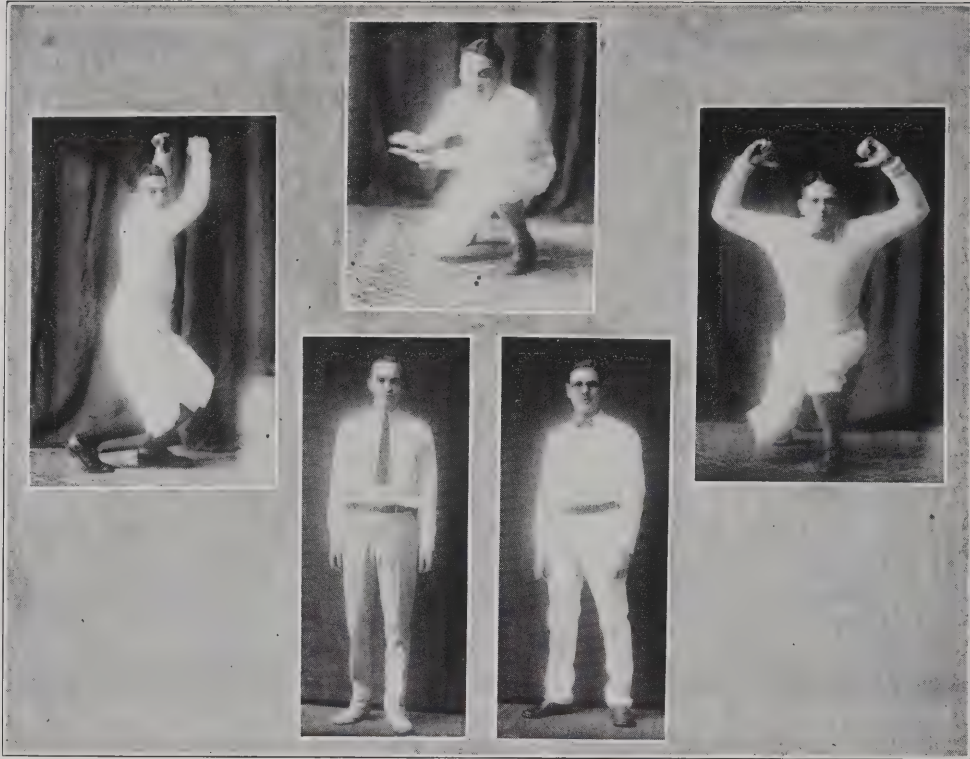

A great amount of the success of this year's Champions of the Ohio Conference is due to the man on the throne—Coach Lange.

He developed about one of the best passing and scoring teams ever seen in action. His defense was seemingly the offense, for opponents seldom had the ball long enough to make any points.

Lange has given Muskingum a team for which we may feel justly proud; and in doing this has placed us on a level in athletic circles that we have long wished for.

Cheer Leaders and Song Leaders

A great amount of the success of Muskingum's teams depends on those who are in charge of the songs and cheers. This year awards were given to the leaders of this pep-generating group of individuals for the work they have done. The object of these awards is to make this phase of college life even better than it has been in the past. We wish to express for the College its appreciation for the work of these men in aiding Muskingum's worthy representatives in every field.

GEORGE McCORMICK

First Base, Captain

George has always done his best for his Alma Mater. This applies to baseball as well as other fields. This statement is no exception this year in spite of his injuries. He carries that determination to never stop until the game is over.

"MOSE" MOREHEAD

Coach

The master mind behind the workings of the baseball team. Coach Morehead has a thorough knowledge of the game from his four years as a star on Muskingum's varsity several years ago. His natural ability as a leader and instructor built up a smooth working team with very few experienced players as a nucleus at the beginning of the season.

ALBERT HEADLEY

Pitcher, Captain-Elect

"Doc" has the reputation among the conference baseball men that he is hard to hit. His consistent pitching and level headedness together with his batting and fielding averages makes him a valuable man to the Muskingum squad.

WALTER MONTGOMERY

Pitcher and Field

"Speedo" lives up to his name on the diamond as well as on the basketball floor. He is good in the field because he can judge a ball and has a true throw. At bat he can make home runs as easy as singles.

BLAIR HASTINGS

Third Base and Pitcher

The man who's motto is clean sportsmanship. Blair can play his usual good game at almost any of the infield positions, even taking the credit for a number of strikeouts on the mound.

HARRY CRYTZER

Right Field

"Hap" has the ability to judge a ball which has been the cause of retiring many an opponent. He also has the ability to fool his opponents by making home-runs.

FLOYD PRUGH
Left Field

Floyd may be quiet and easy going but our team would not be complete without him in left field. He has a high fielding and batting average. He will be greatly missed on the team this season.

JOSEPH POORMAN
Catcher

"Joe" has the distinction of making a Rex Johnson of himself in his Sophomore year. He usually makes a hit just at the time when it is needed. He came through the season with two passed balls and half that many errors.

HAROLD MINTIER
Short Stop

Mintier was only beginning to come into his own when he received a broken bone in his foot. However, in the short time he was at his position he proved that anyone who expects to hold that position next year will have to work for it.

FRANKLIN TROTTER
Second Base

"Whitey" is one man who never lets the odds worry him. When an error is made or a bad play causes trouble, he comes back with that "Let's take this one over" spirit.

LELAND KUTZNER
Center Field

The coach has one man in the person of "Kid" whom he can trust to field everything that comes in his direction. His speed makes him useful in close plays and sacrifice hits.

EDWARD CHIPLEY
Short Stop

"Eddie" did not make his letter in baseball this year but he played well every chance he had to break into the lineup. His ability to handle hot ground drives makes him a valuable member of the team.

WILLIAM HADDEN
Second Base

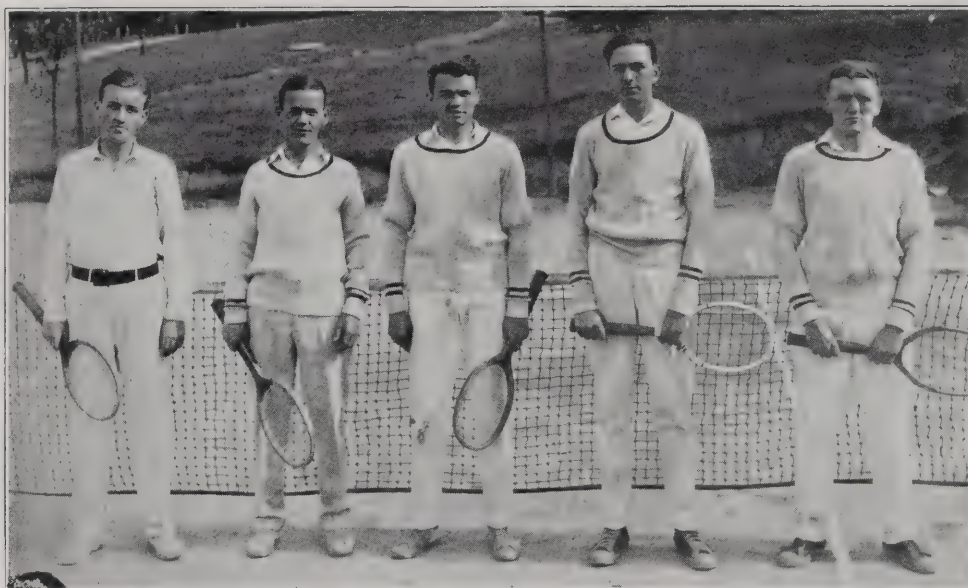

"Bill" possessed that fight and determination which wins ball games. Although he did not play in the required number of innings to win the baseball letter, he did accreditable work around second base and at the plate.

CECIL WOODRUFF
Pitcher and First Base

Woodruff gave a good account of himself this year as a pitcher but played his best game at first. He made an excellent man on assist plays from the infield and covered the ground fast on bunts.

Minor Sports

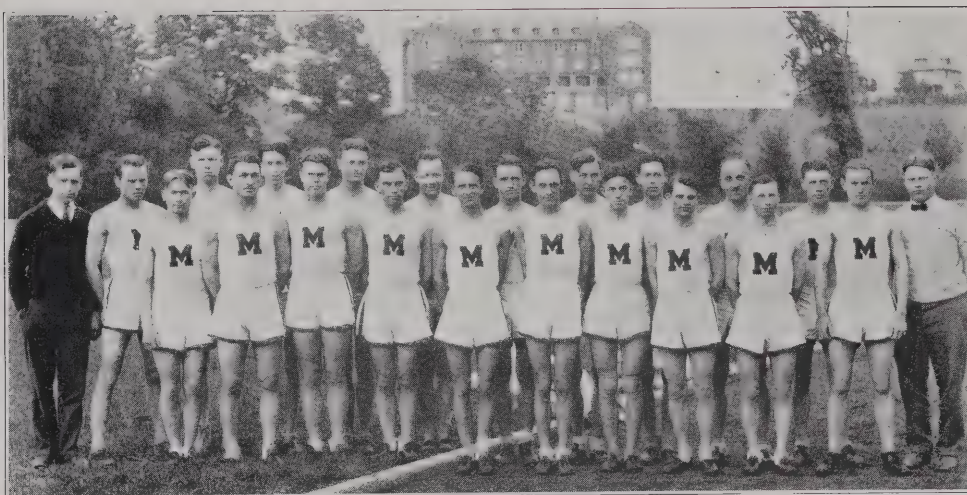

Tennis, 1925

One of the teams of which Muskingum has to be proud is her Tennis Team. All letter men were lost with graduation of the Class of '24 and the season opened with an entirely new squad composed of Capt. Paul Montgomery, Giffen, Smith, Best and Post. Coach Pollock brought his team through the season with six victories, three ties, and one defeat. All men participated in the singles with Best and Smith, Giffen and Montgomery, pairing off in the doubles matches. All members of the team with the exception of Captain-Elect Best were lost by graduation, to next year's squad. The prospects for the 1926 season are bright because of the new men who are now eligible for athletic participation and the fact that Best was defeated in singles but once during the entire season and that at the hands of Stockem, of Denison, who, for three successive years, won the State Intercollegiate Singles Matches.

Track, 1925

This was the initial year for track at Muskingum as a minor sport. The team made good of her opportunities by winning both of the conference meets which were the first intercollegiate contests to be held in the new stadium. The Wittenberg meet was an unusual one in that Wittenberg took the shot, all of the jumping events and the relay; Muskingum took all of remaining events. The Kenyon meet was the never-to-be-forgotten event of the season. The score stood 63-63 at the start of the relay meaning that the last event won the day for Muskingum.

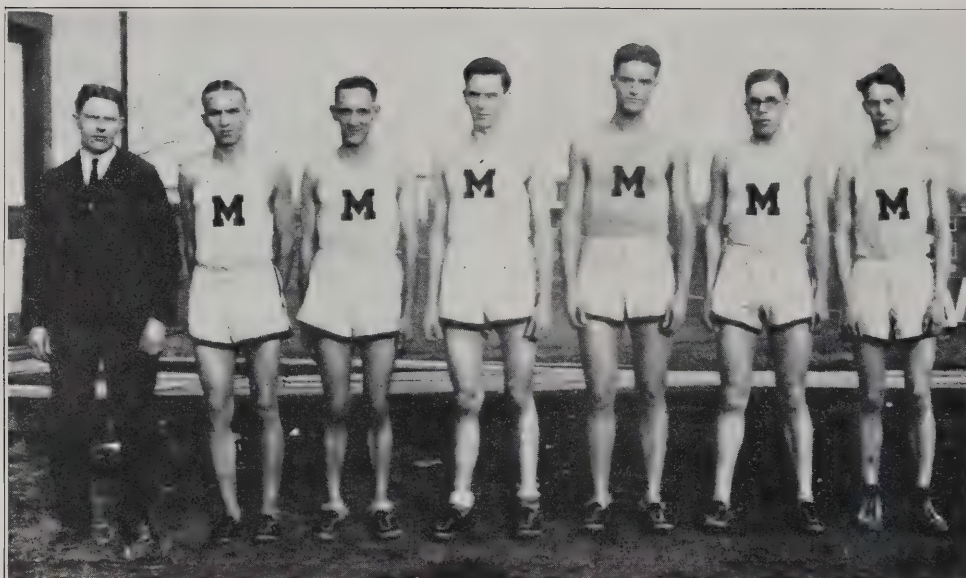

Total scores for the three meets, Wittenberg, Kenyon and Marshall (including four points won by Hastings in the Big Six).

Cross Country Team

The Cross Country Team, in the first year of this branch of athletics at Muskingum, is one of which the college is justly proud. The success was due to the work of Coach Stone and the splendid cooperation of the members of the team. Muskingum defeated Ohio Northern and Denison. In the Big Six Meet at Wooster, Harper placed third and Cochran, seventh. The team was composed of Spencer, Harper, McCurdy, Garrett, Cochran and Fowler. These men gave to Muskingum, her first championship in the cross country field. These intercollegiate meets proved to be of added attraction for they were staged during the football games.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL SQUAD

Prospectus

With the coming of new student generations and the new completed Stadium, a new era has dawned for the heroes of the Muskingum teams.

This year has been a great athletic success. The Football Team did not lose a game on the new McConaha Field. With several new men from the Freshman squad to build up a heavier and faster backfield and an entire veteran line, Coach Lange expects to win the conference.

In Basketball the only dark thought we have is the loss of Capt. "Speedo" Montgomery. His place will be hard to fill but there are some promising Freshmen eligible to play next year who will round out another championship team.

This year's Track Team is one of the strongest in the history of the sport. With the addition of several Sophomores to last year's squad our hopes are the brightest.

Coach Morehead is expecting wonders from his Baseball Team. Several new pitchers have been added to the lineup and a few new infield men will put the Baseball Team among the leaders in the Conference.

Women's Athletics

MISS VIOLA WELSH

The department of Physical Education for Women has become more prominent and efficient than ever this year under the skillful and systematic directorship of Miss Viola Welsh, of Pittsburgh, Pa. She came to M. C. last year with high standards for the department and has proceeded to put them into practice. These standards are such that every girl regards with appreciation and desires to attain. Miss Welsh is not only a splendid director as far as instructing others is concerned, but she, herself, is capable of doing all that, which she demands of her classes, being an expressive and graceful dancer, a good athlete in all sports, and a person of beautiful physique. She has organized the department in such a way as to direct not only the regular gymnastics courses, but also an aesthetic dancing group and class teams in hockey, basketball, volley ball, track, and tennis. One of her paramount duties, in which she proved herself extremely efficient last year, is to plan for the May Day festival. Miss Welsh has much vision and originality in formulating such plans.

Miss Welsh has a personality and an interest in her work which not only wins the respect and affection of the girls, but also is a great asset to the department's popularity. She is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh and has had much experience in playground work.

Women's Athletics

During the past year girl's athletics have become more prominent and more outstanding in the college curriculum than at any other time. In years past it was thought that only the girls who were prominent in their athletic ability were the ones to be interested in girl's sports in Muskingum. But a new era in women's athletics is here.

When a girl enters Muskingum her interest in physical education is aroused because of compulsory attendance to gymnasium classes. This work is required for two years. Then there are advanced classes for upperclassmen. This work and play for the year culminates in May Day, which we hold to be one of the most treasured traditions at Muskingum.

Most of the girls take great interest in this kind of work because there is a goal for which they can work. There is the "A" Association to which organization every girl who is interested in this line of work is desirous of becoming a member. Then there is the "M. C." Club which corresponds to the "M" Club in boy's athletics. To belong to this club a girl must earn eight hundred points in girl's athletics.

It would be a very difficult task to say which one of the girl's sports is the most popular. The game which has been played within the last three years and which has created a great amount of interest is hockey. After the game is completely worked out in the gym classes there is held a class tournament. This, however, is true of all of the sports including basketball and volley ball. The object of the whole undertaking is to develop a stronger and healthful womanhood within the college.

Muskingum "A" Association

The Muskingum "A" Association is an honorary physical club for girls. The first year, a girl who appears to have exceptional ability in gymnasium classes shall be awarded a white "A," and if at the end of her second year she still proves herself worthy of this honor, she shall be given a red "A." It is not until she does receive this red "A" is she considered as a part of the association. In addition to these honors for every additional year she participates in this department she shall be given a stripe and at the end of the fourth year she shall be given a diploma in physical education.

The "A" stands for "aid," since the girls act as student aids in assisting Miss Welsh in her classes. The association has many happy memories in the form of "steak roasts," over night hikes and theater parties.

Student Government

The Student Council

Undoubtedly the most important organization on the campus today is the Student Council. This group is the only collective way the students have for co-operating with the Faculty. It was initiated only four years ago, but its usefulness was so apparent that it rapidly became a necessity.

The council is composed of responsible members from the four college classes, elected by the several classes. They form a group which meets regularly to discuss student problems, and to confer with the faculty when desirable.

Every two weeks there is an open forum at chapel time, with the faculty absent and the student council in charge. At this time students air their opinions and discuss anything that has come to their notice.

Besides conducting the student forum, the function of the Student Council is to encourage activities, perpetuate traditions, and foster school spirit. One of the movements introduced by the Student Council and administered by it, is the Student Chest, which was instituted to eliminate all drives for money by any campus organization. At the beginning of each year a budget is prepared, allotting the requisite funds to the Y. W. C. A., Y. M. C. A., the Band, and several other school organizations, together with a contingency fund. A campaign is put on to raise the money necessary. All other matters of student interest are dealt with as they arise.

The present members of the Student Council are:

Benjamin Hazen, President	William Finley
Donald Spencer, Secretary-Treasurer	Catharine Stauffer
Gladys Forsythe

Student Honor Council

The students of Muskingum College have initiated and maintained a Student Honor System. Its purpose is to encourage the development and maintenance of personal honor. Popular student opinion frowns upon all violations of personal honor, for an act of dishonesty is considered as a lowering of Muskingum standards.

The Student Honor System touches the work of each student in his examinations, notebooks, themes, and all written work. To each of these the student signs, "I pledge my honor that I have neither given nor received aid on this work." Thus the supervising presence of faculty members is unnecessary, and the individual learns personal responsibility and character building.

Because the Honor System was voluntarily organized by students, because it is being successfully conducted by students, and because Muskingum College is one of the few educational institutions in which the character of the student body makes such a system successful, Muskingum is proud of her Honor System.

The representative organization which exercises the educational, legislative, and judicial powers of Muskingum's Honor System is composed of two elected members and the eight other persons are members by virtue of other offices which they hold in other organizations.

The officers of the 1925-26 Student Honor Council are: President, James Moore, President of Junior Class and Secretary-Treasurer, Bertha Borland, Junior Representative. The members are: Ex-President Clyde Canfield, President of Y. M. C. A.; Gladys Forsythe, President of Y. W. C. A.; Benjamin Hazen, President of Student Council; William Finley, Editor of the B. and M.; Frank Ewing, President of Senior Class; Dale Thompson, President of the "M" Club; Elizabeth Freeman, President of the "A" Association, and Alice McKibben, Senior Representative.

B. and M. Board of Control

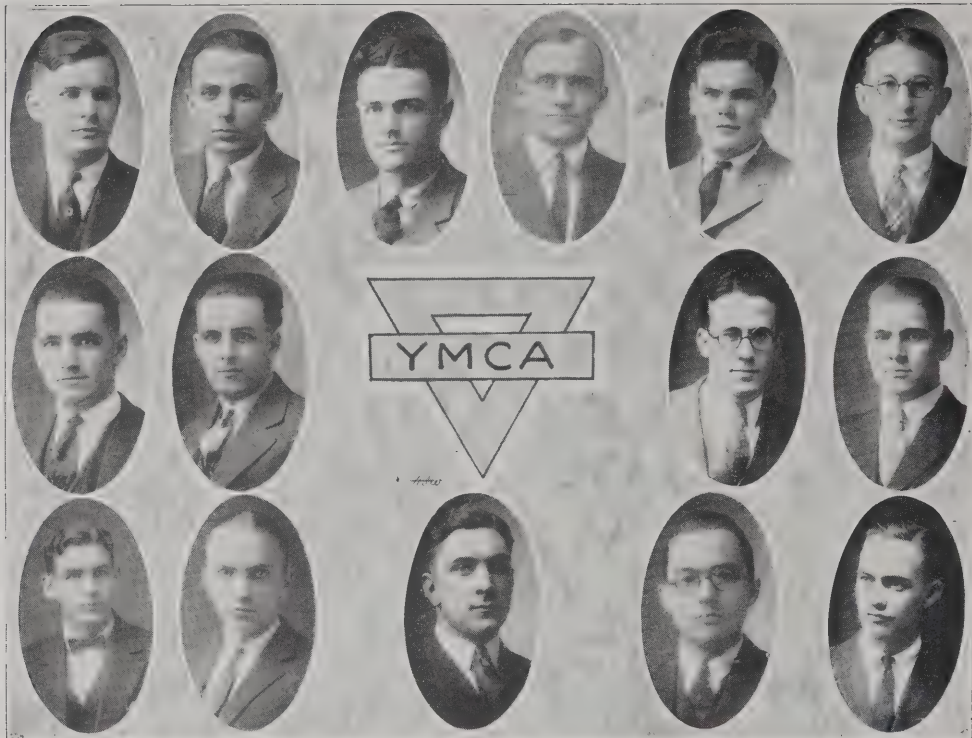

As our weekly publication, the Black and Magenta, is a student publication, there must be a representative machinery of control. This is the function of the B. and M. Board of Control.

Its membership consists of two faculty members and one student elected by each college class. Elections are held annually. The duty of the organization is to control the general policy of the school paper. The Board elects the Editor and Business Manager, and in conference with these persons, appoints the remainder of the staff. Any member of the staff can be removed by a two-thirds vote of the Board, while staff positions can be created or abolished as the Board deems it necessary. Suggestions are exchanged with the Editor and Business Manager, who are present at all meetings. The books of the Business Manager are at any time open to the inspection of the Board.

This year's faculty members are Miss Sharp and Doctor Kelsey. The several years of newspaper experience of the latter have proved a valuable asset as Chairman of the Board. The Senior Class has elected to the Board, Kathryn Ogilvie; the Juniors, Harry Crytzer, Secretary; the Sophomores, John Loudon; and the Freshmen, Harold Stull.

Religious Organizations

Young Men's Christian Association

When we speak of the Y. M. C. A. at Muskingum we think of a big inclusive organization, extensive in its influence and intensive in its efforts. It is an organization that reaches the students through many channels of endeavor. One of the chief aims of the Y. M. is money. It sponsors a self-help bureau for the aid of men wanting part-time employment; in cooperation with the Y. W. C. A. it publishes and distributes without charge that very helpful little guide book, the Muskingum Handbook; the department of boy's work is an organized effort to help the boys of New Concord of grade school age and the Hi-Y committee is in charge of "Y" work in the Academy; another cabinet member acts as captain of the gospel team, an active religious organization of young men who find field for service conducting services from time to time in nearby churches. Nor can we go without mentioning that most outstanding service of the Y. M.—that of the social committee in planning and providing many entertainments and parties throughout the school year.

In spite of its many and various channels of endeavor the Y. M. C. A. does not lose sight of the real essence of its purpose, that for which the "C" in its name stands. Its primary purpose is to lead students to faith in God through Jesus Christ and subsequently to service in the Christian Church. It is with this in view that the Wednesday evening devotional hour and the Bible discussion groups are planned. It is here that the Y. M. reaches the zenith of its ability to serve—by aiding men to grow morally and spiritually as well as physically and socially.

And so it can be truthfully said that the Young Men's Christian Association of Muskingum College is what it claims to be, "an indigenous, spiritual campus movement of students and faculty." The credit for making it possible that this could be said in the past year must be given to Clyde Canfield, President, and his efficient corps of assistants, the cabinet members—Don Spencer, Glenn Jeffers, Robert Ballantyne, Sam Weir, Kenneth Miller, James Moore, Mark Ray, Robert Giffen, Eugene Martin, Reed Clark, Alfred Garrett, Cuyler Ferguson, Lawrence Jongewaard and Harry Crytzer.

Young Women's Christian Association

The Y. W. C. A. is a vital organization on Muskingum's campus. Through this organization the religious life of the girls is stimulated. Its purpose is well expressed in the proposed new purpose of International Y. W. C. A. which is "to live Jesus' law of love in every relationship and so to know God."

The mission of the Y. W. C. A. is not only to minister to the religious life of the college women but also to develop their social contacts on the campus. It endeavors, through the "Big Sister" movement, to furnish a means of closer friendships and through the Y. W. C. A. parties to form wider friendships.

The close of this year sees many things accomplished and the Y. W. C. A. has had a successful year. The outgoing cabinet ends its duties with great hope for the future of Muskingum's Y. W. C. A.

The Gospel Team

The Gospel Team is composed of young men who are endeavoring to be of a definite service by doing some real Christian work. Several phases of this great mission are involved in their study and practice, and this group offers a great opportunity for anyone with ambitions for this kind of activity.

The team is affiliated with and operates under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., but it works independently of that organization and aims to cooperate with all service groups on the campus. In addition to this it is one of the most important religious factors in the college.

Meetings are held weekly, and at each one some problem or phase of the spiritual life is discussed, Biblical material being introduced into the study. The team is divided into smaller groups, varying from one to four men. These groups frequently visit churches in neighboring towns, and do valuable work at week-end services and special meetings. Although they are not finished preachers, it is the object of these men to give their assistance to others, and in so doing receive valuable training themselves.

Those students in Muskingum College, who are definitely planning to devote their lives to Christian service in the foreign field, have organized themselves into the Student Volunteer Band. Meetings are held every Sabbath morning and the bond of fellowship is very strong. At these meetings problems of missionaries and study books of different natures are discussed. Each member has for his aim the desire to further God's kingdom wherever he is.

Cultural Clubs

The French Club

"Le Cercle Francais" is one of the most prominent organizations on the campus. It attempts to stimulate a greater interest in French and "La Belle France," and also to aid the student in conversing en francais more freely. Regular meetings are held once a month at which time a programme consisting of stories, current events, games and French songs, is presented by members of the club. Of course, not a word of English is spoken after one enters the meeting, so that a truly "Petite France," springs up on the first Monday evening of each month, in Brown Chapel. Membership is limited, but once each year there is reunion open to all those who study French. Much of the success of the club is due to the efforts of Mlle. Sharp, M. Morehead, Mme. Dunlap and Mlle. Orr.

The Officers for this year are:

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club is an organization for the purpose of furthering the interests of the Spanish Department of the College and of bringing the students participating, into actual contact with Spanish customs and manners.

Anyone who has successfully completed one year of college Spanish or its equivalent is eligible for membership in this society, and the student of this subject finds it a valuable means of familiarizing himself with the language as it is spoken outside the classroom.

The meetings are held fortnightly and are in charge of student officers, elected at the beginning of each year. Sketches, readings, and talks are given at each meeting and no session is complete without a program of various Spanish games and songs. Of such interest are the programs that each member eagerly anticipates the next "Circulo del Espanol."

Home Economics Club

President -----Lois Breckenridge
 Vice-President -----Ruth Cashdollar
 Secretary -----Alice Law
 Treasurer -----Margaret Ledman

The Home Economics Club is organized for the purpose of creating and maintaining an active interest in the department. Meetings are held regularly once a month at which interesting, entertaining and instructive programs are presented. This year the Club has enjoyed the largest membership and the most varied programs of its history. Besides the Christmas Bag celebration, papers have been written by Miss Glosser, Miss Buck, Mrs. Hamilton. A special feature was a talk by Mrs. Brown on "The Foods of India."

The Black and Magenta

In large, organized groups it has proved almost universally true that there is a need for some organ which will serve to voice the opinions of the people. Since 1914 the "Black and Magenta" has attempted to serve in this capacity for Muskingum College. It contains these expressions of student opinion on all subjects, and in addition, news of college affairs, and articles of a more serious type: editorials, reviews, exchange news, and poetry.

The paper is edited by a student, assisted by a student staff, and is published for the student body. Not only does the paper prove of interest to those in this college but carries news of our activities to other campuses and to those out of school who have any interest in us.

The Editor and Staff of this year's "B. and M." are to be highly commended for the satisfactory results which the student body feels the publication has given.

The staff is as follows:

Alpha Phi Gamma

The Epsilon chapter of Alpha Phi Gamma national honorary journalistic fraternity, was organized at Mnskingum in 1923. During the three years of its activity on the campus it has been responsible for the fostering of journalistic aspirations among the students, for there is nothing that a member of the Black and Magenta Staff or of the Muscoljuan Staff looks forward to more than to the time he or she shall be eligible for election to Alpha Phi Gamma and entitled to wear the beautiful key of the organization. Election to membership in Alpha Phi Gamma is a signal recognition of high scholastic attainment and worthy achievement in college journalism. The membership of the local Epsilon chapter this year includes the following who look up to the great constellation of Alpha Phi Gamma:

Thomas Hazen, President
 Donald Spencer, Sec'y-Treas.
 Benjamin Hazen, Bailiff
 Dorothy Byers
 Gladys Forsythe
 Sara Camlin

Music

Women's Glee Club

The Women's Glee Club is one of the organizations which play an important part in the cultural development of the students. It has as its purpose not entertainment alone, but through its varied and interesting programs succeeds in deepening the appreciation of the students for the beauty in music.

The program this year is a well balanced one, on which appears both classical and folk numbers. Besides ensemble singing there are vocal and instrumental solos and several readings.

The Club this year is composed of twenty-eight members and is under the capable direction of Professor Howard Ralston. Lois Breckenridge is president of the organization and Mary Herron, pianist. Helen Smith is the reader.

The Club does not only use its talents before Muskingum audiences but takes a trip in the Spring of each year. Several of its members also appeared on the College radio program broadcasted from Cleveland.

Every possible means were used to make the Men's Glee Club better this year than ever before. The constitution of the club has been amended so that attendance is made compulsory and entrance requirements are more rigid.

The club had an extensive trip during Easter Vacation covering southeastern Ohio, the western part of Pennsylvania. This trip is one of the longest in the history of the club.

The program of the club consists of vocal, instrumental, solo, and quartet work. This arrangement of numbers has pleased several large audiences in programs presented in the vicinity of New Concord prior to the Easter trip.

The club is under the very able direction of Professor T. H. Hamilton, Director of the Conservatory of Music.

The College Quartett

This year the College Quartet has had an unusually brilliant season. As a part of the Men's Glee Club they have rendered many exceptionally pleasing numbers. The repertoire includes excerpts from the classic masterpieces, negro spirituals, the stately sacred compositions and humorous numbers; all tend toward a well balanced and enjoyable program. The pleasing and snappy harmony of the quartet was a fitting contrast to the solo work of Messrs. Sawhill and Martin, whose trained voices permitted the rendition of a number of beautiful selections in a most artistic manner. The playing of the accompaniments and the piano solo numbers produced by Glenn Cameron made the whole program one of unusual attraction and entertainment par excellent.

The Band

With the largest membership in the history of the organization, the Band has closed a most successful season. The forty-five instruments blended perfectly under the able leadership of Robert Powelson, director, into an organization of pep and harmony. The rendition of band compositions by the masters, college songs, and popular selections in a professional and artistic fashion contributed in a great measure to the enthusiasm and entertainment at athletic contests and put the snap and finishing touches to several parades during the year. In addition to this valuable service to the College, the Band produced a most delightful concert in Brown Chapel. The student body thoroughly appreciates the excellent work of this popular organization during the college year.

The Choral Society

OFFICERS

President	- - - - -	EUGENE MARTIN
Librarian	- - - - -	FRANK NEFF
Manager	- - - - -	NELSON NEFF

The Choral Society has been very fortunate this year in having Professor Thomas Hamilton as its director and Mrs. Wilcox as accompanist.

The semi-annual concerts of the Choral Society are two important musical events of the college year. The first concert was the sixth annual presentation of "The Messiah," December 11, 1925. Each year this oratorio draws a larger crowd, and the people of New Concord, Cambridge and Zanesville look forward to it with pleasure. The four soloists for this occasion were: Phoebe Settlege, soprano; Jean McCrory Newman, contralto; Will Rhodes, tenor; Fred Newman, bass.

In the past, the second concert has been presented the night before Commencement, but this year the custom was somewhat changed, and the opera "Faust" was given in April.

These concerts are produced only as the results of hard work on the part of both instructor and members. The society meets for rehearsal every Monday evening. These productions each year help all of us to develop a greater appreciation for fine music.

The Violin Festival

An event of considerable importance in the annals of the College is the series of orchestral concerts presented each Spring by the Department of Violin and Orchestra, under the capable direction of Professor William W. Gray, and known popularly as the Violin Festival.

It is scarcely possible in a short sketch to enumerate the points of excellence attained by the highly diversified body of musicians which constitutes the orchestra of seventy, or even suggest the many difficulties overcome by the conductor and players in maintaining the high standard uniformly achieved in this great undertaking. Of necessity the personnel of the orchestra, consisting almost exclusively of students of the Department, undergoes radical changes each year, and vacancies caused by the departure of those whose work is finished, must be filled by younger and less experienced players. This exigency and many others has been successfully met each year by the ability and indefatigable labors of Professor Gray who trains his players and conducts the ensemble.

If we admit that culture and appreciation of the fine arts are desirable or necessary in the pursuit of an education, then surely the Violin Festival has long since vindicated its right to a place in our esteem.

A glance at the latest programs offered is sufficient warrant for all of the good things which have been said or can be said about this annual presentation of the orchestra.

The Muscoljuan

In me you find the record of a year
Which Time has taken to his unknown land.
I keep in rock the words you write on sand
And writing, pass; I am the smile—the tear—
The song you sang one morning when the Spring
Was fair among the roses;—I am truth.
My two-edged sword will clip the silvery wing
Of age—I am the keeper of your youth.

The memories which cluster round the hill,
The Dorm and Lake I will keep clean and true.
My flowers fade not—my sky is always blue.
In me is beauty Time can never kill.
My voice will bid Life's waning sun stand still While those I cherish dream old dreams anew.

Affirmative Debate Team

The question for the inter-collegiate debates this year was, Resolved: That the pending Federal Child Labor Amendment should be ratified. Muskingum College has always had debate teams of which she could be justly proud, and her teams this year ran true to form. The team on each side of the question certainly upheld Muskingum's debate traditions in a most satisfactory manner. The season may be characterized as one of especially clear, incisive reasoning and great abundance of well-substantiated material. Although the Affirmative Team lost two debates, to Heidelberg and Denison, but won from Dayton and Wittenberg, only one of them a Conference debate, yet the Conference Championship was a tie between Muskingum, Bluffton and Heidelberg. As Muskingum has held the Conference Cup for two years, this tie will not prevent her from the permanent possession of the Cup, if she should win the championship next year.

As part of the preliminary training this year, Muskingum's two teams debated one another in four local debates: Senecaville, Cambridge, Adamsville and Otsego. The teams broke even on the decisions.

Merrel Ross, the first affirmative speaker, gave a well considered analysis of the question and his talk was compact with evidence. Mr. Ross's first year on the squad was surely a credit to him and we expect great things for the future.

William Finley, the second speaker, distinguished himself as a reasoner and his presentation was easy to grasp. This was Mr. Finley's second year and his graduation will leave a vacancy, that will be indeed hard to fill.

Harry Crytzer, the third speaker and captain of the team, is a first rank debater with a conversational tone and a gripping presentation that is hard to beat anywhere. His whole manner is somewhat expressed thus, "Let us settle down to the fundamentals, and do some real thinking." This was his second year and we expect still more next year.

The Alternates of this team were Robert Wilson and J. Donovan Carson.

Negative Debate Team

Although the question for debate this year, seemed, in a general way, to give the "edge" to the Negative Team in the various debates, yet we must give our Negative Team due credit for the fact that they went through the season undefeated. Especially must we do this since, to show their superiority, they scheduled a feature debate with the strong Affirmative Team of the University of Pittsburgh. This debate which we have just mentioned is a start along a line which we most certainly think should be followed up. This team won debates from Dayton, Otterbein, Mt. Union, Hiram and the University of Pittsburgh.

Reed Clark, first negative speaker, gave a debate that was characterized by lots of "punch" and clear thinking. Clark is always on the offensive. This is his first year on the squad.

William Nichol, the second speaker, was distinguished by his clarity of style and abundance of evidence. He is especially clever at discovering inconsistencies. This is his third year on the squad.

Robert Secrest, the third speaker, is the old master in debate. This is his third year as a speaker and his debates have always been forceful, convincing and unanswerable. His graduation will be a distinct loss to the team.

The Alternates of the Negative Team were Everett Hurt and Lawrence Jongeward.

The Human Race

I would state an evident fact: however diverse the relations of this audience may be, it has a common bond in its American citizenship. What, then, is the citizenry of America? Who mans this Ship of State? Men from the ports of every race and nation have heard her siren of Liberty,—until Englishman, Chinaman, Negro and Swede have mingled. Above the din of her engines we can hear the jangling of mutiny. The Anglo-Saxon masses mutter "Free us from the Yellow Peril!" "What shall we do with the Negro?" "America for Americans!" Then cries the great Unwanted: "Down with Nordic domineering!" "Are they Americans more than we?" A fiery cross flares on the left; a flaming circle blazes on the right. In the quandary of the race problem our Leviathan makes slow progress.

But despite the circles and the crosses, despite Jim Crow cars and ghettos, these groups are fusing. Do you know that one of every seven marriages is an inter-marriage between different races and nationalities, and one-fourth of our present population is of a recently blended inheritance? These facts are oil on fires of hatred. Race war lurks in the masses. Must the Chinese go back to the Celestial Empire and the Slav be returned to the Volga? If so, by what right? Or following a political doctrine, must these factions, like counteracting chemicals, fizz and blend into a neutral state? If so, by what right? As a national policy, must we segregate or amalgamate?

Moulded either in the hands of God or in the evolution of a genetic process, was formed man. Neither science nor religion disputes his single origin. As his number increased in the unknown land of his birth, he moved into regions of different foods and climate. We see in the heavily bearded Russian and in the balmy tempered Italian how man took on, in the milleniums that are to us days, the physical and mental characteristics adapted to his habitat. Then, in a second stage of roving in the search for food and plunder these primordial hordes migrated. As each trekked across the clime of another there was left with the straggler, and on the conquered, the mark of its blood and culture. The passing of centuries saw the fusion of biological traits and the confusion of cultural stamps. Our Nordic forefathers, as the history of man reveals, were to be found among the hordes of proto-Australoids and of proto-Negroids as they mingled with tribes of Europe. The American Anglo-Saxon, the Negro, and the Australian have pre-historic ancestors in common. They are of one blood, modified through the ages in different environment.

But today, as some would evaluate a book by its binding, so have the groups of racial types and nationalities used the thickness of the lip and color of the skin as a boundary—setting a limit to their judgment. Is not the "race" problem of the Japanese in the United States as question of cheap labor and the standard of living more than of skin? We damn the character of the black man,—then, is not the Negro problem one of culture more than of stature? Our so-called race problem is a superficially named group of problems using the mark of physique to set the "opposition" boundary. There is but one race question: Is one race inherently superior to another? We Nordics claim that our superiority is self-evident. Until the time of Columbus it was "self-evident" that the sun revolved around the earth. As some individuals know themselves to be the apex of society, so has each race, on the basis of its few talents, claimed superiority. Justly we can be proud of our economic supremacy; likewise is it true that the Italian surpasses us in appreciation of fine art, the Oriental in the spiritual, the Negro in congeniality. Each type has its characteristic talent. It cannot argue from that gift to preeminence, neither can a superstructure of civilization be founded on a lone cornerstone. In the words of Kroeber, the anthropologist, "racial inferiority and superiority are by no means self-evident truths." Science has discovered no innately superior or inferior group, and no race with a monopoly on either culture, intellect, or beauty. When Stanley and Livingstone returned from their long sojourn in the black of Africa, each recorded that upon first seeing white men again he was nauseated by the sickly pallor of their skin. In view of the relativity of taste and opinion, are we to conclude that an accident of nature found in us the criterion and judge of all others? The whole realm of science questions the opinion of any man who contends that he is inherently superior to an exotic neighbor. The precepts of Americanism demand real evidence in support of such an assertion.

But we Nordics, as do others, would assume the validity and supremacy of our own standards. On the measure of thick lips and colored skin, we would thrust an individual into a class and brand him inferior. Because he wears a different kind of clothes and eats his bread in a different fashion, because of sheer misunderstandings and because of the jealousy of our own position, we would treat him as a dog. "Hath not a Jew eyes? hath not a Jew hands, organs, . . . senses . . . passions? fed with the same food, hurt with the same weapons, . . . warmed and cooled by the same winter and summer?" Why did men mistreat the foreigner? Why does our skin creep in the presence of a man of a foreign race? It is largely because the foreign man is strange. In the wilderness regime the stranger was dangerous and was to be distrusted. Under jungle ethics, to the primitive man, the strange thing was something to fear and to flee from. In the isolation of his retreat he protected himself from the new at the cost of continued ignorance. There he built a barrier of prejudice against the strange, guarding his self-interests and his selfish interests. But civilized man has left that stage wherein narrow egoism and egotism served its purpose. Mankind has come out of the sticks into a clearing of communal relations. Yet flaring crosses and blazing circles mark the fact that the pseudo-American is the puppet of his prejudice. The ogre of the strange still holds man in ignorance of his neighbor. When the flesh of a human being is carved and torn, when a living body is saturated with gasoline and burned at a stake for a mob, we know that some fools in their ignorance should be pitied. Ignorance! ignorance!—the mother of prejudice, which embodies the senseless excuses for moralized and Christianized vice and bigotry. From the dawn of existence this prejudice excused cannibalism and carnage. It put man kind into shackles and burned the martyr at the stake. It kept the renaissance hundreds of years behind its time. It breeds caste, and countenances tyranny and lynching. It permits war in the world today, or beats swords into plowshares to be used in the economic exploitation of men. Prejudice, then fear—fear and ignorance—ignorance and prejudice: the vicious circle that gyrates at the expense of human progress. H. G. Wells indicts this complex when he says: "There is no more evil thing in the present world than race prejudice, . . . it is the worst single thing in life . . . It justifies and holds together more baseness, cruelty, and abomination than any other sort of error."

In the heat of our prejudices against the strange we have forged a chain that holds us from real enlightenment. Because of this prejudgment which Professor Dewey calls a "wide-spread social disease," we have crushed our fellowman into a sordid rut and have kicked him back when he would advance. Has the game been played on the square? Have we given the other fellow an even cut? I do not believe we are fully aware that we play the game with no regard for rules. If we could lift ourselves above this turmoil of factions to a judgment seat, we might see the whole vast realm of the so-called race problem in its true perspective! But we are here as average American students and citizens in the heat of the fray; we have awakened to find ourselves, not in the first stage, but well into the vortex of the melting pot. In the dim light of insufficient facts and over the intense heat of prejudice this molten mass of racial types, religious sects, standards of living, is beyond human comprehension and analysis. So complex is the interplay of factors and factions that this problem finds no immediate solution—and justifies no dogmatic conclusions. Wanting in facts we lack in knowledge; wanting in knowledge we lack in standards of judgment; wanting in standards it becomes, not an issue of amalgamation or segregation by the mob nor by national politics, but a question that can be worked out in the action of the individual citizen. Such action, depending on his views, could mean amalgamation or segregation, biological or cultural. As man to man, in one's relation with the "unwanted," it is only fair that each determine his attitude toward another by what that individual character merits, not by an unscientifically preconceived notion of his race. If some would slump into a rut of servility, let that be the measure of their achievement. It is not an unusual thing that is desired: to judge a man by what he proves himself to be, rather than by what we think he might be. Blind to everything but actual worth, Justice challenges our action toward our neighbor.

It is then the concern of you and you only,—it is the privilege of your neighbor and your neighbor only that, as long as he treads not on the rights and morals of others, he may seek companionship either within or without the boundary of his race. He should realize that his judgment is only relative and should not be the dictator of another's actions. Let the individual American act in the light of his best judgment, retaining those considerations which would counsel good sense; the union of harmonious strains, the regard for offspring, the rational application of eugenic principles. If, contrary to the past and present trend of humanity, this action of each citizen should lead the people into segregation, that would be the goal. But if the action anticipates amalgamation, toward which the association of humans seems to move, let it be. Remembering the insufficiency of his own knowledge, one should strive for more light. The individual will then be one of—not a mob—a people who will receive the contribution of each type: the gifts of the economic West, of the spiritual East, of congenial Negro, of the moral Scotsman. The culmination will be realized in the unit of the Human Race. Humanity, of one blood, can find a true specimen, a cosmopolitan man, in America.

Founded in Liberty, with justice and equal opportunity for all, held together in a union of interests that made for a real brotherhood, a nation was constructed. At half the stride from 1776 to 1926 these dictates of individual action were reasserted in the freeing of the slaves. Are they now to be held as hollow soundings to mock the shackles of the "unwanted" social slave? Citizens of America, what is the citizenry of America? Is it a heterogeneous complexity of jangling factions? or is it a growing unity of individuals in search for individual and social happiness? Let us reassert our affiliation with the great institution which embodies the basic principle of a square deal, "that all men are created free and equal, endowed . . . with certain inalienable rights of life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness." It is the doctrine of a Jew, of Lincoln, of Humanity.

Tau Kappa Alpha

The Ohio Alpha chapter of the Tau Kappa Alpha, the national honorary fraternity in oratory and debate, was organized at Muskingum in 1911. Membership in the fraternity is a recognition of the highest attainments along forensic lines. In order to be eligible for election to the fraternity a man must serve two years as debate speaker, two years as debate alternative and one year as speaker, or one year as college orator. Requirements for membership are more rigid in the Muskingum chapter than in any other chapter in the state, and therefore the men who are elected to this organization deserve fit recognition for their valuable service to Muskingum in the intercollegiate forensic contests.

Forensic Club

The Forensic Club of Muskingum is to oratory and oral expression the same as the "M" Club is to athletics. To this club is due the credit for the great interest shown at Muskingum in the field of intercollegiate public speaking. The Forensic Club was organized four years ago for the purpose of stimulating interest in debating and in public speaking in general. It has accomplished this purpose in a way that is both unique and effective, by coordinating its social and curricular activities. It has succeeded to such an extent that, along with the originality of the thought displayed by it, a reputation has been earned that makes it one of the best known organizations on the campus today.

The privilege of membership is gained through participation in one year's work on the varsity debate squad, or by winning the position of College Orator, after which the applicant is finally passed on by the members on the basis of his efforts and ability. Honorary membership may be made at the discretion of the Club by being or having been a debate coach at Muskingum or by having been a former debater or orator.

The emblem of the organization is a small triangular gold key which is given by the College to anyone having had a year's experience on the varsity debating team or by meeting the requirements of the Club in some other way. One can rightly be proud to wear it as it is the outward sign of the great benefits that one may gain by being associated with the Club.

The members this year are:

William T. Finley
Harry B. Crytzer
A. Melton Boyd
William M. Nichol
J. Everette Hurt
C. Merrel Ross
L. Reed Clark

J. Donovan Carson
Robert T. Secrest
Benjamin F. Hazen
Robert S. Wilson
Lawrence H. Jongwaard
Russell P. Bobbit
G. Reid Johnson

Dramatics

"The Rivals"

The Junior Play class rendered their interpretation of "The Rivals" by Richard Brinsley Sheridan, in Brown Chapel on Tuesday night, May 19, 1925. A very clever, witty comedy it was, and the character portrayal showed marked talent on the part of the players.

Much credit is due to the able coaching of Miss Virginia Gibbon and Miss Mildred Keboch, whose untiring efforts helped to make the play one of the best of the year. The following persons took part:

CHARACTERS

Fag—Servant of Captain Absolute	Mary Herron
Thomas—Coachman of Sir Anthony Absolute	Gladys Stephenson
Lucy—Maid of Miss Lydia Languish	Helen Smith
Julia Melville—Ward of Mrs. Malaprop	Esther Finley
Mrs. Malaprop—"Queen of the Dictionary"	Mary McKee

Bob Acres—"An eccentric planet"	Sam Weir
Sir Lucius O'Trigger—Mrs. Malaprop's baronet	Mark Ray
David—Servant of Bob Acres	Harry Cowden
Maid—Servant of Mrs. Malaprop	Ruth Borland

"The Great Adventure"

The second Junior Play, given by the Class of '26, was staged in Brown Chapel on the night of June 8, 1925. "The Great Adventure," by Arnold Bennett, has been very popular in the realm of the theater, and the play is unusually difficult to present successfully. However, this cast's rendition showed marked ability both on the part of the actors and the coach, Mr. Thomas Pollock, and was pronounced a performance which left extraordinarily vivid impressions in the minds of the audience.

DRAMATIS PERSONAE

Ilam Carve—An illustrious painter	Frank Ewing
Albert Shawn—Ilam's valet	Cecil Woodruff

A Waiter	Sam Weir
A Page	Doris Powell
Janet Cannot	Catharine Stauffer
Mrs. Albert Shawn	Lois Breckenridge
Honoria Love	Evangeline Giffen

"The Goose Hangs High"

A cast composed of members of the Senior Class presented "The Goose Hangs High," by Lewis Beach, on January 15, 1926. This play helped to prove that Muskingum still maintains its high standard in play production work. The decided success of the performance was due in a great measure to the efforts of Miss Mildred Keboch and Prof. and Mrs. C. R. Layton, who coached it.

The clever acting on the part of individual members of the cast caused the plot to be unraveled in such a manner that the audience was charmed with the interpretation.

“The Taming of the Shrew”

The second Senior Play of the year was presented on January 23, 1926, in Brown Chapel, “The Taming of the Shrew,” by William Shakespeare. The characters were interpreted so that they delighted the Muskingum audience, and showed that the Senior Class possessed members of unusual and artistic acting ability. Miss Virginia Gibbon and Prof. and Mrs. C. R. Layton were the coaches.

French Play

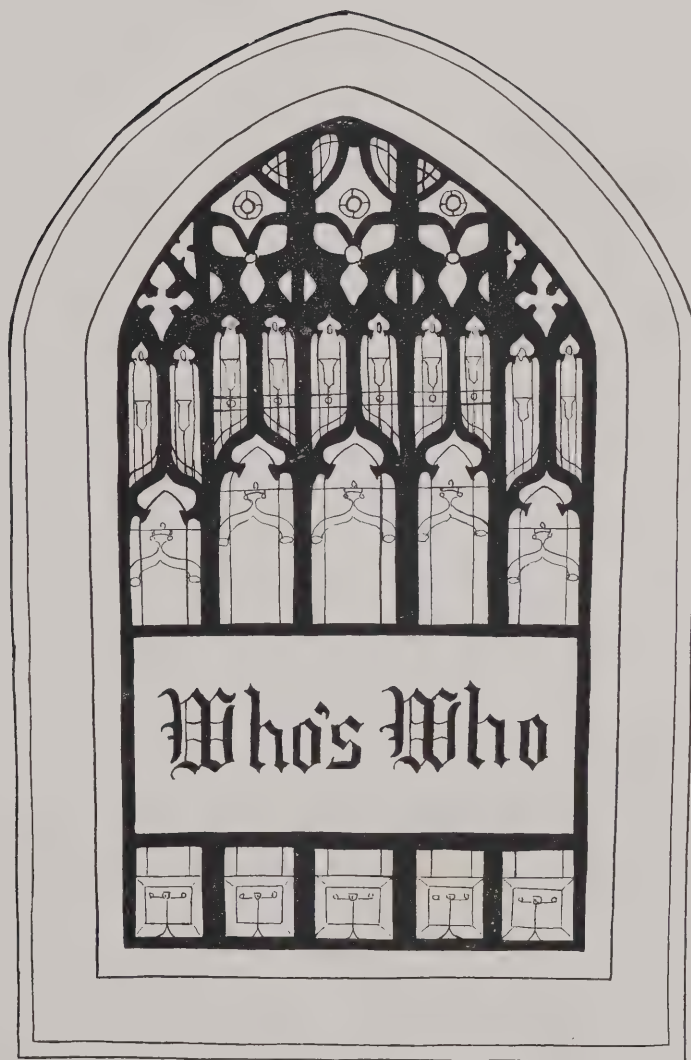

One of the most worth-while events of the year, and one which a great many students look forward to enjoying, is the French Play, presented by the French Class in dramatics. On March 23, 1925, "Les Boulinards," a comedie in three acts, was given. The play was written by Ordaneau Valabregue and Keroul, and as interpreted by Muskingum talent, proved to be very interesting. The success of the production was due to the coaching merits of Mlle. Mary E. Sharp and Mlle. Ruth Shaver.

LES PERSONNAGES DE LA COMEDIE

FEATURES

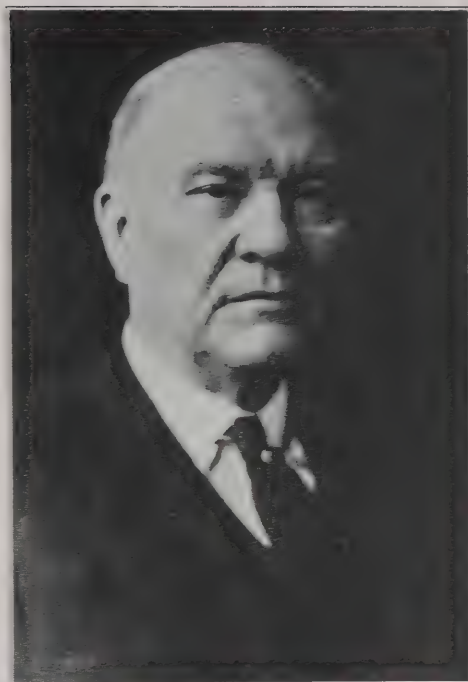

Who's Who Among the Alumni

On the following pages we pay tribute to but a few of the Alumni of Muskingum who have shown themselves prominent in their respective fields. We honor them in a small measure for the honor and glory which they have reflected upon their Alma Mater. We also wish to express our appreciation to the thousands of other Alumni and former students who have and are now serving so nobly in many different fields. Bringing honor to themselves and to Muskingum.

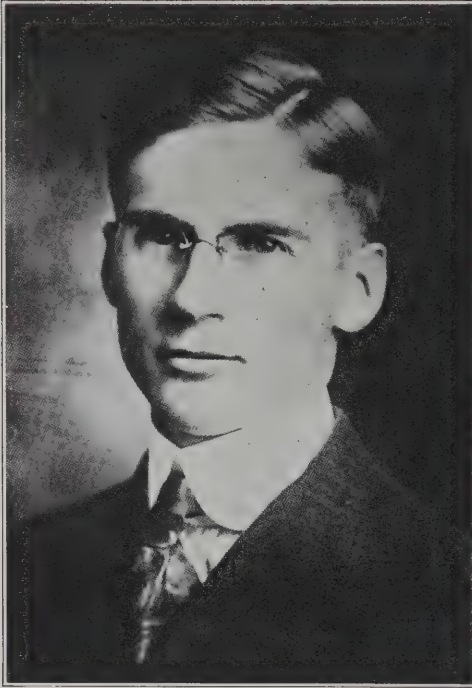

Dr. W. O. Thompson

One of Muskingum's "Who's Who" alumni of whom she is very proud is Dr. William Oxley Thompson—now President Emeritus of Ohio State University. Dr. Thompson was born in Cambridge, Ohio, November 5, 1855. He graduated from Muskingum in 1878, then attended Western Theological Seminary, Allegheny City, Pa., where he graduated in 1882. Muskingum had the great honor of conferring upon him his D. D. degree in 1891. From the following, he received degree of LL. D.: Western University of Pennsylvania, 1897, Oberlin College, 1908, University of Vermont, 1911, University of Michigan, 1915. Dr. Thompson has been an active head of two prominent universities: Miami, 1891-1899, and Ohio State University, 1899-1925. He became President of Ohio State University, when 15 buildings, stood upon a campus of 348 acres, and 98 faculty members were teaching only a comparatively few subjects to 1,150 students. When he resigned on November 5, 1925, the campus of 1,100 acres had more than 60 buildings scattered over it, with an army of 9,000 students tramping the paths on their way to the classrooms of nearly 800 faculty members. Is not Muskingum filled with pride to have had such a man as Dr. Thompson within such close fellowship?

Francis Scott McBride, D. D.

Muskingum is glad to have the honor of having Francis Scott McBride as one of her alumni. Dr. McBride is to-day General Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America. He was born in Carroll County, Ohio, July 29, 1872. He received his B. S. degree from Muskingum College, 1898. He graduated from Pittsburgh Theological Seminary, 1901, at which time he was ordained into the ministry of the United Presbyterian Church and was pastor at Kittanning, Pa., 1901-1906. From 1909-1911, he held the pastorate of the Ninth Avenue Church, Monmouth, Illinois. During the years from 1912 to 1924, Dr. McBride was State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Illinois; since 1924, he has been General Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America. He is a member of the General Council of World League Against Alcoholism. His home is now in Westerville, Ohio.

Honorable C. Ellis Moore

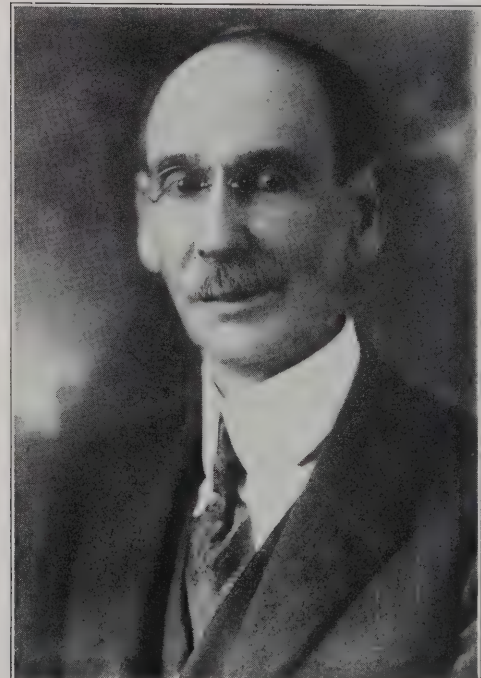

C. Ellis Moore, one of the most representative of the Muskingum alumni, was born in Guernsey County, January 3, 1884. He attended Mt. Union and Muskingum Colleges, and graduated with honors from M. C. in 1907, being one of the class orators. After leaving Muskingum, Mr. Moore attended Ohio State, College of Law, for three years, graduating in 1910. While in the University he maintained the splendid reputation made at Muskingum. Being admitted to the bar in 1910, he began the practice of law in Cambridge, Ohio. In this year he further recognized the value of Muskingum by marrying one of its daughters. Mr. Moore was prosecuting attorney of Guernsey in 1914, being re-elected in 1916. He was also chairman of the Guernsey county dry organization in 1917, and since that time has been a member of the Sixty-sixth, to Sixty-ninth Congresses of the United States, inclusive.

It is to men like this that Muskingum points with sincere pride. Mr. Moore is never too busy to give of his time and energy to his College. He is one that Muskingum has every right to be proud of, and the work which he did while here, as well as the work he is now doing, can fitly rank him as an Alumnus who is well worthy of all the honor we can do him.

Melvin Grove Kyle, D. D., LL. D.

Melvin Grove Kyle was born at Cadiz, Ohio, May 7, 1858. His college life began at Muskingum, and from here he graduated in 1881, with the A. B. degree. He took his M. A. from Muskingum in 1884, and then entered Allegheny Theological Seminary, taking the degree of D. D. from this institution in 1893, and received the LL. D. degree in 1909. Dr. Kyle was ordained a minister in the United Presbyterian Church in 1886, and has long been President of the Foreign Mission Board of the U. P. Church.

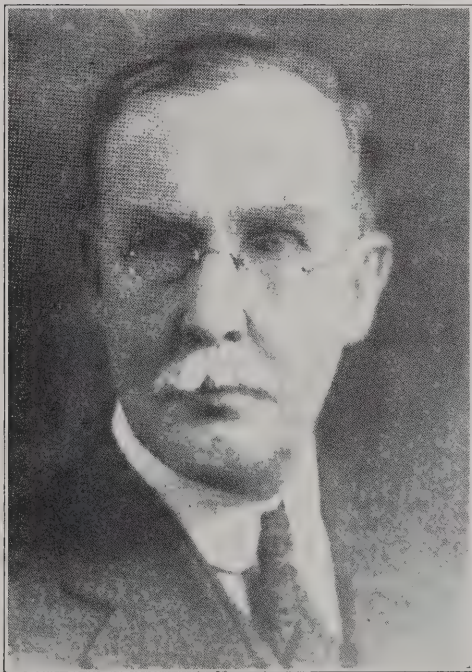

Dr. Kyle is not only a valued force in the ministerial field of his church, but is also an eminent Egyptanalogue and Archeologist. From 1908-15 he was a lecturer upon Bible Archeology. He has been a professor in Xenia Theological Seminary, and in 1922 was elected President of this institution. He was editor of the "Bibliothèque Sacra" in 1921, and has been editor of the Archeological Department of the Sunday School Times since 1911. In 1912 Dr. Kyle was with Professor Pettie at Heliopolis, and in 1924 was with the Xenia Seminary Expedition to the "Cities of the Plain", and now in 1926 is at Kirjath-sepher with the same expedition. Both expeditions are in cooperation with the American School of Oriental Research.

Dr. Howard McDonald, M. A., Ph. D.

Dr. Howard McDonald is another college president of whom M. C. is glad to boast! Even this man himself says, "I boast of having sustained more relationships to Muskingum College than any other individual." Here is the list: Academy student; College student; Undergraduate tutor; Instructor of Greek and Philosophy; Professor of Political Science and Economics; Dean; Acting Registrar; Director of Summer School; Member of the Board of Trustees. I was a student at Muskingum when intercollegiate athletics were introduced, and played on the baseball, football, and basketball teams."

Dr. McDonald has done more than the afore-mentioned. After having graduated from Muskingum in 1901, he attended Princeton University, then in 1914 received Degree of M. A. from the University of Michigan; Ph.D. from same in 1915. Since 1922, he has been President of Parsons College, Fairfield, Iowa. Alas! that space does not permit us to mention the many more deeds of merit which Dr. McDonald has performed.

Robert Johnson Miller, D. D., LL. D.

Among the prominent Alumni of Muskingum who are to-day rendering efficient service in the world we find Dr. Miller, who plays a valuable part. Born near Hanover, Pa., he was brought by his parents to New Concord, and eventually entered Muskingum, graduating in the class of 1873. Among his schoolmates were William Rainey Harper, late President of Chicago University and Prof. T. H. Paden.

After teaching for a year at M. C. Dr. Miller entered Xenia Theological Seminary, and graduated in 1878. He was ordained into the ministry in 1878, and from that time on has filled an important place in the life of the U. P. Church. In 1880 he was made Editor of The Christian Union Herald, continuing in this work up to the present day. In addition to this he has been a prolific writer upon matters of religious interest, has been for thirty-four years a Member of the Board of Trustees of the General Assembly, serving in the office of President for 19 years.

Dr. Miller is one of the Alumni of whom Muskingum has every reason to be proud, and out of characters like his come those great things, both in the interest of the church and of Muskingum. We are privileged to honor such men as Dr. Miller.

J. Kelly Giffen, D. D.

Everyone who is familiar with Muskingum College is acquainted with the name of "J. Kelly Giffen"—and why not—when we find that he has had the following connections with M. C. Graduated in 1910; during college days sang on college quartet, represented the college on three inter-collegiate debating teams, won the Tri-State Oratorical Contest; was Editor of the Muscoljuan; from 1913 to 1915 was assistant to President Montgomery at Muskingum; raised the first $25,000 given by Muskingum Alumni. Dr. Giffen was granted degree of Doctor of Divinity by Muskingum, in 1919. However, he got more than this at his Alma Mater—a wife! Miss Lella Lorimer, a graduate of Muskingum, and teacher in the Academy.

To-day, Dr. J. Kelly Giffen is President of Knoxville College, Knoxville, Tennessee.

Robert Allen Pollock, D. D.

This Muskingum man, who at present makes his home amid the "land of the sky and the eternal mountains", was born near St. Clairsville, Ohio, in 1886. When the class of 1909 graduated from Muskingum, this same Dr. Pollock was one of those supreme beings designated as "magna cum laude."

Dr. Pollock graduated from Xenia Theological Seminary in 1912, his health breaking down shortly afterwards, he went to Colorado Springs, in the hope that the mountain climate might benefit him. Evidently it did, for in 1917 he was called to the First U. P. Church of Denver, Colorado, where he has remained ever since. Dr. Pollock has been unusually successful and now has one of the three largest U. P. churches west of Chicago. He received his degree of D. D. from Muskingum in 1922.

Among the prominent Muskingum alumni, Dr. Pollock has a high place. He served his college well when he was a part of her, and the passing years has seen no diminishing in the service for the people whose lives he is privileged to touch. Around him and others like him is laid the foundations of the Greater Muskingum.

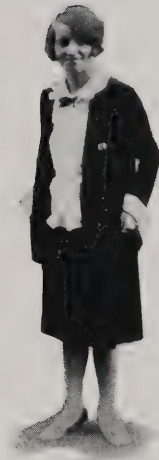

Prominent Seniors

BENJAMIN HAZEN

"Ben" is well known on M. C.'s campus as President of the Student Council but because of his extraordinary ability, he has distinguished himself in many other ways. As Editor of an unusually good Muscoljuan which came out on time, he is estimated by Muskingum students as one who makes his convictions practical. His added efficiency in the Debate squad, in the Alpha Phi Gamma and as Sophomore Class President insures his recognition by everyone.

KATHRYN OGILVIE

There have been few Muskingum girls more popular than "Kate", and for a good reason. She has filled a definite place in Muskingum student life and has done it well. Never too busy to be a sturdy companion and an understanding friend. She will leave behind her a splendid record of service on the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet and in Class Plays, and the memory of a personality which added something of charm to all that it has touched.

WILLIAM FINLEY

"Bill" is a staunch supporter of the Y. M. as a cabinet member and officer of the organization. He has been a speaker on the Championship Debate Team for two years; and a good B. and M. Editor. For these and many other reasons he is a valuable man. He stands for all that is best in the Muskingum life, and has done his share for her. A student, a loyal friend, a true gentleman—Bill has been all these.

CLYDE CANFIELD

Clyde is distinguished as President of the Y. M. C. A. and his "sojourn" in Muskingum has been of great value to the religious life of the college. His ability and personality marks him as a real M. C. man. His service in the Y. M. has helped to gain a most important place on the campus for that organization.

GLADYS FORSYTHE

Who's Who in Muskingum? We'd think immediately of one whose charming personality has won our hearts; one whose character has stood as a symbol of the ideal of Muskingum girl. That's Gladys! As President of the Y. W. C. A. she has helped to make that organization one of the most prominent and attractive ones in campus life. As a member of the Student Council, she has perhaps exerted an unusual influence.

DONALD SPENCER

"Don" has been active in all phases of college life and has always given of his best for M. C. In Y. M. C. A. work, as Business Manager of the B and M, in athletics, and everything into which he has entered, he has brought that courage and loyalty which accomplishes the most. Of men like him, Muskingum is always proud.

ROBERT SECREST

In his Junior year he became a TKA. He was a member of the Championship Debate Team of Ohio for three years. His graduation deprives us of the services of a super-debator, and the presence of a real Muskingum man.

CATHARINE STAUFFER

Sometimes we find a character whose worth is hard to evaluate because of its value. Kate Stauffer is one of these. For clear thinking upon Muskingum problems, as a member of the Student Council, for sheer general ability, and for the possession of that spirit which accomplishes things, she has no peer on the campus. She was also an efficient member of the 1926 Muscoljuan Staff.

FRANK EWING

Here is a truly versatile man. He is shy, but we like him because of his individuality. He has had the leading part in two Class Plays, and a member of Varsity Basketball Team. He has made M. C. sit up and take notice more than once. And as President of the Senior Class he demonstrates his efficiency and executive ability. Frank is a mighty fine fellow, and M. C. would be better for more like him.

WINIFRED DEW

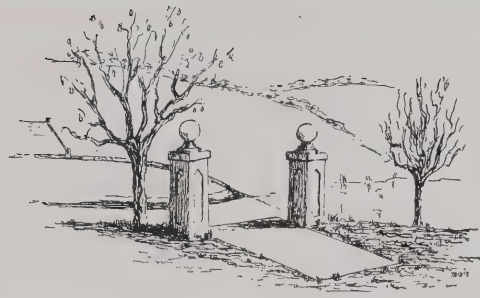

"Winnie's" efficiency and ability in Y. W. work has won a worth while place for her in Muskingum. Her art in making friends is one to be admired and even envied. "Winnie" is true blue, and we're sure that her many friendship's will prove of lasting value.

SARA CAMLIN

Pedagogically, psychologically, and philosophically speaking, Sara has been an influential character. She was not only that—but she's a lot more—an "A" student, a leader of the Student Volunteers, a member of the Y. W. Cabinet, Assistant Editor of the B. and M., Dormitory President—well, just an efficient, dependable, likeable girl.

J. KENNETH MILLER

"Ken's" influence is varied, but far-reaching: he has proven himself one of many, as Exchange Editor of the B. and M., Junior Class President, Football Manager, Y. M. Cabinet member and prominent actor in Junior and Senior plays. He's been in scores of other activities which have added much to Muskingum campus life.

Stadium Dedication

McConagha Field

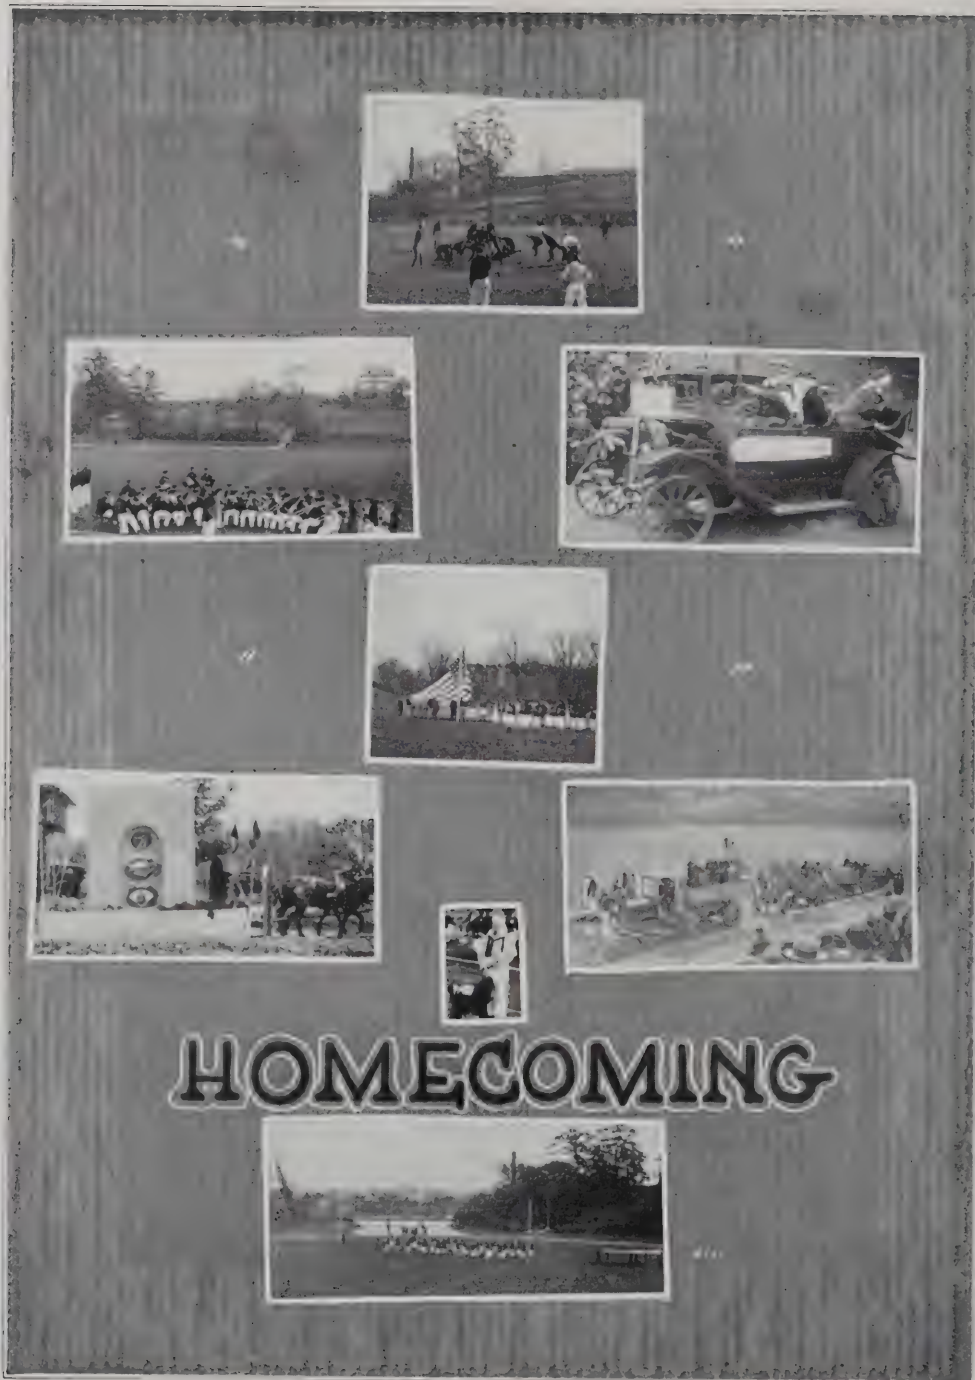

The pride of every loyal Muskingum student, alumnus, and friend is the new stadium on the north campus. It is one of the finest in the state of Ohio, and with a present seating capacity of 5000 and a possibility of more than doubling that number when the need demands. It promises to adequately meet the future needs of Muskingum.

This stadium has been made possible by the gifts of the faculty, students and townspeople. In the fall of 1924 a two weeks campaign was launched and with the subscription of the Summer School students approximately $70,000.00 was raised. Work was begun as soon as the weather permitted and by the track season of the spring of 1925, the stadium was ready for use. Too much credit cannot be given to "Cam" McConagha who, as College Engineer, supervised the construction of it at a cost of $59,670.00.

On Home Coming Day of this year, the stadium was dedicated with appropriate ceremonies, preceeding the football game. The speakers of the day drove into the stadium on one of the trucks used on the construction work and this truck served as a platform for the formal dedication exercises. Dr. Montgomery, Rev. O. H. Milligan, Hon. C. Ellis Moore, and "Cam" McConagha took part in the program. Then the band marched the length of the field playing the Muskingum Hymn, followed by eight Senior men carrying a large American flag, which was unfurled on the new flag-pole at the eastern end of the field. The usual formality and dignity of a flag-raising service fitted in with the spirit of the hour.

This dedication marked another great step for Muskingum in her constant strides forward.

Muskingum Summer School

Muskingum has maintained a Summer School for over thirty years. For approximately half that time the attendance did not exceed one hundred. A steady growth has characterized the more recent years, the attendance reaching 1050 in 1925.

The Summer School has been quite largely a school for teachers. Professional requirements have increased until every College, any of whose students expect to teach, must maintain a Department of Education. The courses in a Summer School should be based upon the work offered by the various College departments. A Summer School for teachers, therefore, is dependent upon the development of a Department of Education adequate to the demands of the times and the needs of the constituency of the institution.

More than sixty percent of Muskingum's outgoing students teach for a longer or shorter period. A Department of Education with standing and recognition therefore is of interest and concern, not only to the students of the school year, but also to teachers in service who wish to advance their standing by summer study.

The substantial growth of the Summer School in recent years is a fine testimonial to its standing and recognition.

L. G. Lowery, M. S., M. A.

Dean of the Department of Education, and Director of the Summer School

Professor Lowery has been the leader in the development of Muskingum's Department of Education and Summer School. He has always been enthusiastic over teaching as a calling and has held it as a deep conviction that Muskingum as a Christian institution could render a great service by training for the teaching profession hundreds of fine Christian young men and women to go out and touch the lives of the youth of the land. Professor Lowery has been quietly and effectively keeping the work of teacher training abreast of the times. He secured the co-operation of the Village Board of Education in the use of the Elementary and High Schools as demonstration schools for the teacher training work. Since 1914 such schools have been vital to the recognition of the Department of Education and its recognition in turn has been essential to the very existence of the Summer School. Professor Lowery has managed the Teachers' Bureau that has meant much to beginning teachers. He has devoted himself unstintingly to keeping in touch with a wide circle of school officials for the sake of the service he could be to the students. This has been done without compensation and at times considerable personal sacrifice.

He has kept in close touch with public education and has been active in local, state and national organizations. He has been honored with the presidency of the Eastern Ohio Teachers Association, was twice selected delegate to the National Education Association, is now a member of the Legislative Committee of the Ohio State Teachers' Association and also of the Ohio College Association. He has been for three years a member of the Advisory Committee to the Ohio State Department of Education on Standards of Teacher Training. He is a member of the Phi Delta Kappa, national educational fraternity.

Professor Lowery has been active in many other College and community interests besides Teacher Training and Summer School. As a Muskingum student he was an active member of the class of 1907. It was his class that inaugurated the Honor System, the Junior Play and the Muscoljuan. He was group photographer for that first Muscoljuan. In his earlier teaching at Muskingum he was for a time Professor of Physics and Assistant in Mathematics. He installed the moving picture machine in the College and was manager until it was paid for. He was Faculty representative on the Building Committee during the erection of Montgomery Hall and the Dormitory. He was a member of the Village Service Board for nine years, during which time the Village and College power plants and the water service were consolidated. He was for ten years a trustee in the U. P. Church, during the time the two congregations united and the new building was erected. He organized the consolidation of the College Academy and the Village High School in 1908 and has been since then, by unanimous vote of the Board of Education, continued as Principal or Superintendent of the Village schools.

He has been in school work, continuously, summer and winter, either as a student or teacher, since 1903. He has had a great zeal for the growth and betterment of Muskingum College and of New Concord Village and his chief joy has been in any service he may be to the youth as they come and go.

Muskingum Days

Scrap Day

One of Muskingum's traditions is the Annual Scrap Day which is held several weeks after the opening of school in the Fall. It is then that the Freshman and Sophomore classes clash for supremacy. If the Freshmen win the events, they discard their Freshmen insignia after Thanksgiving, but if the Sophomores prove the victors, the "wearing of the green" continues until after the Christmas vacation. This custom has been adopted at Muskingum in an attempt to eliminate hazing.

This year the events were three in number. The first was the raft fight on the Lake between selected teams of boys from the two classes. The second event was the girl's relay race and the last was the color rush on Flag Pole Hill. The Freshmen were the victors in all three of these contests.

This custom of Scrap Day has proven quite successful in creating a healthful rivalry between the two contending classes and much interest is shown throughout the entire school in the observance of this tradition.

SCRAP

DAY

May Day

May Day is the memorable out door festival of the year. It is under the direction of the Department of Physical Education of the College. The celebration is held amid the tall stately trees on the North Campus which is in itself a beautiful spot. The sloping green hills are crowded with interested spectators who have come to witness the annual crowning of the queen.

The Junior Class selects a girl from the Senior Class to be the Queen of the May. The choosing of this girl is based upon the queenly qualities which she possesses. The Queen is attended by her royal court; and many fairies, elves and spirits pay her homage and dance for her. It creates a beautiful scene as the shadows of twilight gather and it is one of the most picturesque presentations of the college year.

Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. Summer Conferences

These two organizations which play such an important part in the religious life on the campus, send, each year a representative group of their members as delegates to the National Summer Conference held at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. Here, the delegates from other colleges and universities spend two weeks in the beautiful surroundings of this summer camp by the lake-side. An elaborate program of lectures by prominent men and women of the world, discussion group meetings on campus problems, entertainments, sports and swimming, makes a trip to Lake Geneva one of profit and enjoyment.

FINIS

Humor

Impressions of New Concord by one who has never been there.

Bruce Ferguson: "Changed your bed linen yet?"

Ken Hutchinson: "Heck, no, 'taint worn out yet."

Orrin Anderson: "Where is that fly that is tickling me?"

Bystander: "Why, on your nose."

Anderson: "Sure, but don't be so indefinite."

"Help, help," called "Fat" Myers as he struggled in the water.

"All right, old man," shouted the wide awake advertising solicitor, "how about a few lines in the want ad. column?"

Some Weather!

(B. and M. Press Reports)

Weather outlook for week beginning Monday: Upper Mississippi Valley, a period of scattered showers during the first half and again during the latter half, followed by next week.

Wit: "Did you ever drink any of this week-end gin?"

Nit: "What's that."

Our Favorite Short Story

He glanced anxiously around him, then, assuring himself that he was not observed, brought out a small package. For a moment his hand trembled over the glass of water. Should he put the powder in? He was breathing heavily. He cast a glance about him—and then tipped the powder into the glass. One gulp and it was gone. "If that draught does not make me sleep tonight, I'll have to see a specialist."

MATCH THE COUPLES FOR YOURSELF!

Cupid's Playground!

Traveling salesman: "Pardon me, but can you tell me where Fort Ketchup is?"
 Ruth Thompson: "Why, I don't believe I know of a Fort by that name".
 Salesman: "Oh, I got the wrong name. It's Fort Mustard".

Prof. Moses in Geology class: "Mr. Hale, tell us about snow and rain".

An Irishman went to see "Abie's Irish Rose" while in New York City. When he returned, one of his friends said to him: "How did you like the play, Pat?"
 Pat: "Faith, and the first act was all right".
 Friend: "Didn't you see all of it?"
 Pat: "Why no, when the curtain went down after the first act, the program said 'Second Act, a few days later,' and I didn't have time to wait".

Dentist: "I'm awfully sorry, miss, but just tore off a piece of your gum".
 Patient: "That's all right. Just stick it under the chair and I'll get it as I go out".

If courtship is an institution, marriage must be a finishing school.

Bill: "Waiter, there is sand in this bread".
 Waiter: "Yes, sir, that's to keep the butter from sliding off".

A TRICK OF LOGIC

A poet once said, "All men are liars". Therefore he was a liar. Hence what he said was not true. Consequently all men are not liars. He must not have been a liar. Then what he said was true. . . . All men are liars . . . Therefore he was a liar . . . What he said was not true . . . Then all men are not liars. If this is so, he could not have been a liar. Oh, what's the use anyway!!!!

Life is real, life is earnest,
We must strive to do our best
And departing leave behind us,
Notebooks that will help the rest!

F—ierce lessons
L—ate hours
U—nsuspected company
N—othing prepared
K—illed in test.

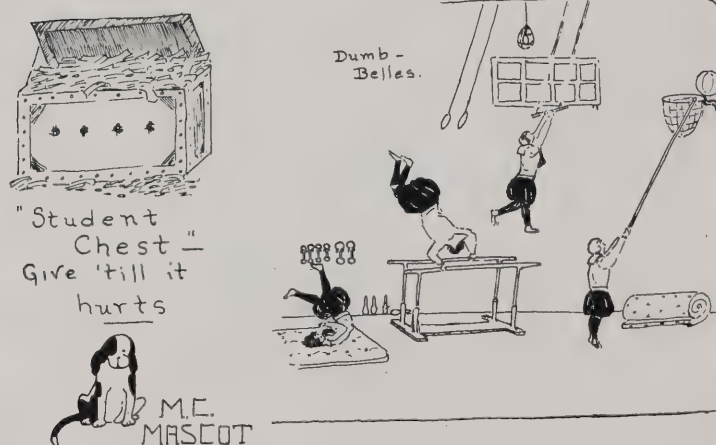

Nelle: "Do you smoke?"

Walter: "Oh, yes I smoked for forty-eight hours once".

Nelle: "What did you smoke?"

Walter: "Two hams".

FOR SALE—One good cow, gives lots of milk, also a lawn mower and rake.

Kate (laughing until tears rolled down her distinctly roughed cheeks): "These salt tears are making me smart".

Frank: "I am glad that something can make you smart. Your education seems to have failed".

Winnie: "Sam, your apron's in the soup".

Sam: "Oh, that's all right; it's dirty".

Flattery is a sort of mental peroxide that turns a woman's head.

Why Worry Over Exams.?

You have two alternatives: Your prof. is either easy or hard. If he is easy you have nothing to worry about. If he is hard, you have two alternatives: Either you study hard or you bluff. If you study hard you don't need to worry. If you bluff, you have two alternatives: Either your bluff works, or it doesn't. If it works, you don't need to worry. If it doesn't, you have two alternatives: Either you are conditioned or you flunk. If you are conditioned you don't need to worry. If you flunk, you won't have to worry any longer. Therefore, Why Worry?

It's a tough world; very few of us will ever get out of it alive.

Jim Moore had a position in a music store, last Christmas, so it is rumored. While at work at his counter one morning, a pretty young lady stepped up to him and asked in her sweetest tone: "Have you 'Kissed Me in the Moonlight'?"

Jim turned, looked at her and said: "It must have been the man at the other counter. I've only been here about a week".

Joe (entering crowded street car):

"Do you think we can squeeze in here?"

Sara: "Hadn't we better wait till we get home?"

The absent-minded professor is with us again. This one kissed his shoes good night and put his two little children under the bed.

Soph: "Why did you stop singing in the choir?"

Betty Gray—"Because one day I didn't sing and somebody asked if the organ had been fixed".

To be funny and know is difficult, to be funny and not know is tragical.

"I'd like to take out some insurance."
 "Fire or Life?"
 "Both. I have a wooden leg."

Bone: "Dot ate something that poisoned her."
Boner: "Croquette?"
Bone: "Not yet, but she's very ill."

Two Hundred Seventy

Ken Miller: "Dearest, am I the first man that ever held you in his arms?"

Winnie Hupp: "Yes of course. Why do you men all ask the same question?"

R. Fowler: "Why doesn't a Scotchman enjoy smoking a pipe?"

R. McQueen: "Maybe he smokes it too fast."

R. Fowler: "No, when he smokes his own tobacco he packs his pipe too loose, and when he smokes somebody else's he packs it too tight."

Trunis: "I had a blind date tonight. She was so dumb she didn't know whether "Red" Grange was a new tea room or a farmers' organization."

GIRLS

They're fickle, they're foolish,
They giggle and laugh,
They paint and they powder,
And spend all you have.
You love them, you hate them,
It most drives you mad:
But just try and forget them,
And see where you land.

Dean Cleland: "Young man, have you a regular place of worship?"

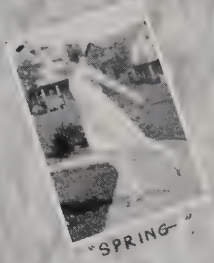

"Bob" Taylor (on way to Dorm): "Yes sir, I'm on my way to see her now."

Nelson Neff: "Last night I dreamed I was married to the sweetest girl in the world."

Glenna Speers: (on his arm): "Oh, Nels, were we happy?"

Some dumb people think a ground hog is a sausage.

Greetings . . .

*F*OR FIFTEEN YEARS we have watched the MUSCOL-JUAN grow bigger, and better and broader. The true Muskingum Spirit gets a new expression each year.

Yet we must admit that we treasure the earlier volumes as a little better and a little more sacred each year. We have every volume on file. Each year the spirit of prophesy in those earlier volumes when the GREATER MUSKINGUM was only a DREAM, has a new meaning. NOW it is that "Dream come true." Like Rome she now sits proudly on her SEVEN HILLS..

Perhaps we of the more sordid business type should not give way to sentiment. But we cannot deny that at each new COMMENCEMENT SEASON as the Alumni of other days gather in from their various fields of worthy endeavor that we too, are joyed to meet and greet them one and all. It is as welcome friends gathering in again at the Old Home. Their joys become our joys and their sorrows our sorrows. Each year their numbers increase. Each year their hand shake seems a little firmer, their welcome a little more cheery, and their spirits a little richer. May it ever be so with all of us.

Why A Photograph

 ANY years before the Phonograph recorded the human voice, Daguerre by the use of a sensitized silver plate gave to the world the reproduction of the human face and form. We do not stop to think what it would mean to be without portrait photography. It brings joy and pleasure to the rich and poor alike for sentiment rules the heart of all. Some men think an apology is needed when they sit for a photograph. This denotes provincialism. Travel, politics, posterity, business and social life have made Photography a necessity to men of affairs. It records child life and preserves the subtle changes that are so fleeting and yet so precious to a fond parent. Old age is glorified and the Portrait of today becomes the treasure of tomorrow. Few there are who do not have stowed away somewhere with a lock of hair or some token of a departed loved one a Picture that money cannot buy.

No one knows quite so well as the Photographer the yearning heart of those who seek his aid, hoping he may be able by some process to reproduce from a mere impression a Portrait that will satisfy. As our shadow lengthens we know that there are men in Photography whose light shines from studios that are hid away in garrets, frequently on the third floor back. We remember that lights from the studios of Michael Angelo, Rembrandt and Mozart, showed in much the same way. We know that all great contributions to society have been of sacrifice.

We are proud that men of Photography have been big enough to sacrifice. (The Man of Galilee sacrificed.) But one knows too that civilization is turning the mouth of the horn of plenty towards the arts. We see on the horizon better days ahead for men who picture the personality of the world.

The machine age has already passed; there is a place for men of Photography.

CASH VALUE FOUND IN OLD TIME SETTING

Cox's Tea Room in the old Historic Cabin at New Concord, one of the Old National Road's Most Attractive Eating Places. The rise of the Tea Room is a natural development of this moving upward of the standards of living. The eating habits of the American people are changing and the more refined taste demands a finer food served and surroundings that do not jar the artistic temperament. A tea room must serve delicious food in an attractive way and most of all it must have the Homey Spirit. Guests must feel at home and not like customers representing so much cash. The former is the College Cabin Tea Room. The best people feel at home there.

AN APPRECIATION

FOR MANY YEARS we have printed Muskingum's Junior Class Annual, The Muscoljuan, and our business relations with the Annual Staff and College, during all these years, have been mutual and satisfactory.

¶ We are proud of our work in producing this year's volume by our new overlay process, used on the halftones, and feel that the work of this year's Staff reflects the high standard of Muskingum College.
